

Negro Student Arrested Again

CLEVELAND, Miss. (AP)—Police arrested Cleve McDowell on traffic charges Sunday, rounding out a full week of trouble for the expelled Negro student at the University of Mississippi.

McDowell, 21-year-old resident of Drew, was arrested on one count of speeding and one of driving without lights.

His trial was set for Monday and he was released on $200 bond.

Last Sunday, a pistol fell out of his pocket as he was expelled from the school. He was expelled Tuesday. Saturday, a justice of the peace found him guilty of carrying a concealed pistol and fired him $100.

Javits Predicts U. S. Wheat Sale

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted Sunday that President Kennedy will approve the sale of American wheat to Russia but said it should be only a single shot deal.

"I am opposed to opening the door by this wheat deal to general trade with the Soviet Union," Javits said in a radio and television interview taped for New York stations.

Javits said Russia must make substantial economic concessions—he did not spell out what he had in mind—before the United States signs any general trade agreement.

Newsweek Finds Goldwater Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Newsweek magazine said Sunday it appeared likely from a survey it conducted that Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater now has at least 500 of the 665 Republican convention votes needed to become the party's presidential candidate.

"Newsweek also feels that Goldwater will probably get a majority of the Pennsylvania and Michigan delegations, currently nominally pledged to each state's respective favorite son," Newsweek said.

The magazine said its survey showed:

"Most GOP leaders in Pennsylvania want Goldwater although they must now back Gov. (William) Scranton as a favorite son. It appears that it will be difficult for Scranton to hold his delegation in line."

Fischer Quints Still Healthy

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Four of the Fischer quintuplets were weighed Sunday, with the lone boy, James Andrew, still the biggest and all gaining weight.

James Andrew weighed 4 pounds, 9 ounces—up from 3 pounds, 13 ounces a little over a week ago.

Biggest of the girls was Mary Margaret, 3 pounds, 13 ounces. Mary Catherine weighed 3 pounds, 9 ounces, and Mary Magdalene was one ounce lighter.

Mary Ann, smallest of the five, was not weighed.

"She's doing fine, too," a spokesman said.

Mrs. Andrew Fischer, 30, visited the hospital Sunday and took a peek at her babies through the nursery's observation window.

Negroes Said To Favor JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negro leader Roy Wilkins said Sunday that Negroes favor the re-election of President Kennedy because they believe he "is doing something for them."

Rejecting any suggestions of racial bloc voting, Wilkins told interviewers on the "Youth Wants to Know" (non-network) television program that "The Negroes aren't racially motivated. They'll vote for anybody who will treat them right."

"This is the way wheat farmers vote for a man who stays for wheat parity price supports," he said. "This is the way a butter farmer votes against the oleomargarine men."

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he does not believe the Republican party is becoming a white man's party—"It's a minority party," he said.

Anti-Ben Bella Fight Declared

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—The clandestine Front of Socialist Forces—FS—in Algeria announced Sunday night it is starting an all-out fight against the government of President Ahmed Ben Bella.

The announcement was made by leaders of the opposition group shortly after crowds of angry Berbers spilled into the streets of several towns in Kabylia shouting, "Down with Ben Bella."

Miss Borck Wins Pocono Mt. Title

SWIFTWATER — Miss Monika Borck, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Borck of 708 Ann St., Stroudsburg, was crowned Miss Pocono Mountains of 1963-64, during the ninth annual Miss Pocono Mountains Scholarship Pageant at Pocono Mountain Joint High School Saturday night.

The coronation was performed by Miss Suzanne Rossi, Junior Miss Pocono Mountains, in a ceremony which climaxed a program presenting eight young women.

She received a $100 cash award donated by the Stroudsburg First National Bank, East Stroudsburg National Bank, Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co. and North-eastern Pennsylvania National Bank.

In addition, she will receive a four-year senatorial scholarship at Pennsylvania State University, University of Pennsylvania, Temple University or the University of Pittsburgh, from State Sen. William Z. Scott of Lansford.

The new ambassador for the Pocono Mountains is a five-foot, six-inch blue-eyed blonde and measures 36-26-38. She is a 1962 graduate of Stroud Union High School and is a licensed beautician, presently in teacher training at the Stroudsburg School of Cosmetology.

Born in Stroudsburg, Germany, she became a resident of the Poconos at the age of five.

Miss Borck chose as her talent presentation a short talk on the relationship of art and cosmetology and why she plans to study art education when she attends college in January. Judges were given a selection of her art work during her short talk.

Chosen by the girls themselves as their "Miss Congeniality" was Miss Lynn Schiebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schiebel.

Castro Is Worried About Red Trade

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has told Cuban students working harder to help the government cut back on aid from the Soviet Union. He termed Soviet aid indispensable but said it saddled Cuba with a $100-million balance of payments deficit.

Speaking Saturday night, the Cuban leader cautioned the nation against relying too heavily on assistance from Moscow and said every effort must be made to reverse the trade imbalance with the Russians.

At the same time, Castro renewed personal attacks on President Kennedy, calling him a demagogue more interested in votes than in solving racial problems in the United States. In an impromptu interview Sept. 7, Castro called Kennedy a "cheap and crooked politician."

Castro made it clear Cuba was not ready to go along with any thaw in East-West tensions and vowed to continue to support anti-U.S. revolutions in Latin America.

At one point during his speech, Castro was interrupted by a mysterious explosion.

"Don't worry," he told the crowd. "It doesn't matter if it is a bomb."

Castro appeared at ceremonies marking the third anniversary of the Committee for the Defense of the Revolution.

He said counterrevolutionaries underestimate the force of his revolution in Cuba and claimed more Cuba-type revolutions were in the making in Latin America.

"The only way for Latin America is to follow the Cuban way," he said.

Switching to Cuban foreign policy, of Stroudsburg, she was presented with an arm bouquet of red and white carnations.

She chose to talk on her desire to join the Peace Corps after her graduation from East Stroudsburg State College next Spring. She ended her talk with the quotation of her belief that "service is the next one pays for the space one occupies on earth."

Francis Shinn, co-owner of Vacation Valley, was master of ceremonies and presented Mrs. Robert A. Miller, founder and director of the pageant, with a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

During the program, Little Miss Pocono Mountains, Cheryl Chase, danced her interpretation of "Little Red Riding Hood," the talent presentation which helped her win her crown. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chase of East Stroudsburg.

Also introduced were Miss Kathy Dann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dann of Canadensis, who was chosen as "Little Miss Congeniality," and Miss Linda Lee Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mary Erwin of Mountbath, who received the honor of "Junior Miss Congeniality."

John Calhoun, executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau which sponsored the pageant, was introduced.

Barrett Junior Women's Club, coordinating organization representatives, were introduced. They were Mrs. Dale Price, president; Mrs. Edward Bevan, chairman of Junior Miss contestants; Mrs. Robert Besocke, chairman of the Little Miss contestants, and Miss Helen Paskevich, chairman of the Miss Pocono Mountains contestants, in addition to Mrs. W. Roy Williams, who served as master of ceremonies for the Junior Miss pageant.

Judges for the pageant were Ted Berger of Allentown, Herbert Masters of New Jersey and Philip Malozzi of Bethlehem.

Goldwater said he would not vote to shut off a filibuster against the civil rights legislation.

And he said that middle or late January would be "a good time" for him to announce whether he will seek the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Goldwater, interviewed on radio, discussed at length reports of an explosion in the Antarctic about Aug. 3 that some sources thought might have been nuclear in origin. Others said it was volcanic eruption or collapse of a huge iceberg.

He appeared on the Mutual Broadcasting System's program, "Reporters Roundup."

"I think I can say that I believe that the United States sent ships to that area to collect samples to determine if it was a radioactive explosion," he said.

"But to this date I have heard nothing officially saying that it was or wasn't a nuclear-type explosion."

He said the matter was kept so secret "that I was prevented from asking the question in open hearings" of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee. He added he was convinced, however, the disturbance was caused by a volcano.

The Atomic Energy Commission has said it has no evidence that it was a nuclear explosion, which could have had a serious impact on the nuclear test ban treaty debate then under way.

Treaty Vote

The Arizona senator, who is considered a leading possibility for the GOP presidential nomination, acknowledged that his vote against the treaty might hurt him in a political campaign, but explained his reasoning this way:

"I'm convinced... a large yield bomb, 50-100 megaton, detonated 100 miles or higher over this country... could put out of operation all of our communications systems... and... bring victory of its own... I've felt we had to have more testing to learn about this. I'm convinced the Russians know the answers."

The treaty bans all but underground testing.

Goldwater said it is "physically impossible" for Congress to approve both the administration's civil rights and tax cut bills in the time remaining in this session.

Goldwater said his decision to announce in middle or late January whether he will seek the nomination is based on the late January closing date for the first two presidential primaries, in New Hampshire and Illinois.

He said if he runs he would enter these two contests.

Wallace Declares Arrests Imminent In Negro Sunday School Bombing

Birmingham Blast Killed 4 Negro Girls

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace's office said Sunday night that "arrests are imminent" in the bombing of a Negro church in Birmingham which killed four children two weeks ago.

The statement said state investigators "expect to break the Birmingham church case within the next few hours."

The statement said the government would give no specific details "except to say that arrests are imminent."

A dynamite blast during the Sunday school hour killed four Negro girls at the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church Sept. 15.

About 20 persons were hurt in the blast.

Two Negro youths were killed in disorders that followed the explosion. One was shot by a policeman after he threw rocks at a police cruiser, detectives said. A grand jury is investigating that incident.

Two white youths are free on $10,000 bond in the killing of the other Negro. They were arrested the day after the shooting.

President Kennedy sent two personal emissaries, former Army Secretary Kenneth Royall and ex-West Point coach Earl Blaik, to Birmingham to help ease the racial tension.

The men met with white and Negro leaders and city officials last week. They will resume their talks Monday. There has been no discussion of the closed door sessions by the emissaries or persons attending.

In Birmingham, the Jefferson County sheriff's office and city police officials would not comment on the announcement.

Ray Faist, special agent in charge of the Birmingham FBI office would not comment, either.

The FBI has been assisting local and state officers in the investigation of the blast. Faist said if the dynamite used was transported across state lines, the FBI can step in.

Between 10 and 15 sticks of dynamite were used, officers said. Eight blasts have shaken the racially-tense city since the end of a six-week long desegregation drive last spring.

Council Reconvenes

Pope Paul Asks Church Reforms

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI reopened the Vatican Ecumenical Council on Sunday, giving it a strong mandate to reform the Roman Catholic Church and hold the door wide for Christian unity.

The pontiff also told the 2,500 assembled prelates to "build a bridge toward the contemporary world."

At a solemn ceremony starting the council's second phase, Pope Paul spoke from the throne in St. Peter's where Pope John XXIII last faced his council nine months ago.

Pope Paul listed the council aims as four: redefinition of the Catholic Church, reform of the Catholic Church, gathering of all Christians in unity, and closer contact with the contemporary world.

He said his address was a key-note for both the continued council and the pontificate he began last June 21. Pope Paul saw the worldwide episcopal assembly, greatest in history, as "a human and divine phenomenon" and as a council of "invitation, of expectation, of confidence."

The gold mitre on his head and the massive folds of a white-and-gold cape almost engulfed the slender figure of the Pope, who was 66 last Thursday. He delivered a 10,000-word address in Latin in a clear voice that rolled in deep tones throughout the hushed basilica.

To 60 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox observers seated near him and to the Christian churches they represent he said: "There can be no doubt about the attitude of the council with regard to the great numbers of separated brethren and of the possibility of multiplicity in the unity of the Church."

"We lay no snares. We do not wish to make of our faith an occasion for polemics."

He told the world's leaders to have courage and confidence in their ability to create peace and provide for their peoples.

He told non-Christians his own Church looks beyond itself in love to those faiths that honor "the one, supreme, transcendent God," even if Catholicism sees in them omissions and insufficiencies.

In a sermon entitled "Santa Claus versus Jesus Christ," Powell urged members of his church—the Abyssinian Baptist Church—to boycott Santa Claus this Christmas by refusing to purchase presents for exchange.

"In Latin American countries they don't celebrate Christmas by giving presents," Powell told his congregation. "Santa Claus is only celebrated in Anglo-Saxon churches where it was invented as a commercial gimmick."

Diem Doubts U.S. Will Cut Off Aid

MANILA (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam was quoted Sunday as warning that "the whole world, including America, would suffer the consequences" of a complete stoppage of U.S. aid to his country.

But he added he did not believe this would happen, in an interview published by the Manila Sunday Times.

Here are excerpts of the interview, as published:

Q. "It seems the American people and most of the world don't understand the position of your government both in connection with the Buddhist crisis and the political conditions in your country. What are you doing to counteract it?"

A. "I should like the Americans to reserve a part of the generous aid they have given us to detoxicate—clear up—its opinion, as well as world opinion."

Q. "Mr. President, if, in spite of your efforts, the U.S. continues to misunderstand you and the rest of the world remains unconvinced by your explanations, with the result that the United States cuts off aid entirely and the United Nations condemns your government, what would be the consequences? Are you prepared to face the situation that may develop and carry on your struggle against communism with any hope of winning?"

A. "Not only we, the Vietnamese people but the whole world, including America, will suffer the consequences. But don't get alarmed. I don't think things will turn out to be as bad as that."

Q. "What is the role of Madame (Ngo Dinh) Nhu in public affairs in Viet Nam? Is she speaking for the government whenever she comments on your policies and programs or on American reactions to events in Viet Nam?"

A. "Madame Nhu has herself stated on several occasions that she has nothing to do with my government, except that she supports it because she believes it to be relatively better than the others, especially with regard to the emancipation of Vietnamese women."

Q. "Six hundred dollars," Rockefeller replied and the customs man dutifully marked it on the declaration form.

The governor's wife, Margaretta, declared $150 and her cousin, Mrs. Peter Isin, told the Communists she had $200 in her purse.

"Where do you live in the United States?" the East German asked. "Albany, New York," Rockefeller replied, broadly grinning.

The governor, who arrived in West Berlin Sunday morning for a one-day visit, was accompanied to East Berlin by diplomats from the U.S. mission.

His driver had taken Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller's passports to the Communist control shack hoping to get them checked through without having to leave the car.

The Communists insisted, however, that both go through all the formalities required before any foreign civilians can enter the Communist sectors.

It took 11 minutes for the governor's party to check through. The Communists did their utmost to speed up the process; sometimes it takes an hour.

State News Roundup

Democrats Hit Scott Broadcast

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania Democrats are questioning the propriety of public service broadcasts made by Sen. Hugh Scott, a Philadelphia Republican whose seat goes up for election next year.

The issue was raised Saturday by Democratic State Chairman Oris B. Morse, who asked the Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters to determine if Scott's programs are in conformity with regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

In a letter to Association Executive Secretary Robert H. Maurer, Morse said:

"The junior Senator from Pennsylvania (Scott) has been and is now using public service time on the airwaves to express his views on current issues, as is fitting and proper for an elected public official. A candidate for public office, however, is a man with a different purpose, as I am sure Sen. Scott, because of his loudly proclaimed concern for fair play, will concede."

A Scott aide said the Senator would not comment on Morse's position.

Police Capture 3 Runaway Boys

ATHENS, Pa. (AP)—A 90-mile-an-hour chase ended here with the capture of three teen-age boys who had left a youth division rehabilitation center in New York state.

A police roadblock in this village near the state line stopped the boys Saturday night and they agreed to return to New York voluntarily.

Police identified them as James Gerhardt, 16, of Rochester; Richard Lovell, 17, of Elmira; and Ned Narehard, 17, of Niagara Falls.

The boys left the center in Seneca Friday night and stole a car in nearby Auburn, police said. The chase began after the car was spotted Saturday night in Elmira.

The boys have been taken to Chemung County Jail in Elmira.

YGOP Criticizes Western Demos

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — A resolution adopted by Young Democrats of 13 western states last month in Berkeley, Calif., urging resumption of diplomatic relations with Cuba is "repugnant to the American ideals," says Pennsylvania's Young Republicans.

The Young Republicans further called the Democrats' resolution, which also urged withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam and the signing of a non-aggression pact between the NATO and Warsaw Pact nations, "a threat to the peace and security of the United States."

The 20 delegates to the Young Republicans' weekend meeting also adopted a resolution calling for the reduction in the federal tax structure with a corresponding reduction in federal spending.

Scranton Names Buck, Leader

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton appointed Thursday author Pearl S. Buck and former Gov. George M. Leader to a new committee for the handicapped.

The committee will be headed by Miss Buck, who also was chairman of a similar committee under prior administrations.

The new committee will serve as an advisory group to the Council for Human Services, an inter-departmental unit headed by Public Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams.

Scranton Hits Bull's-Eye

Kentucky Wins Boone Rifle Match

READING, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Scranton hit the bull's-eye.

Too bad he wasn't on the team of 10 Pennsylvania marksmen who fired against 10 Kentuckians Saturday, in their feud over Daniel Boone's long rifle.

Kentucky outshot Pennsylvania 1,199 to 1,080 in the first round of the contest to determine whether Ole Dan's frontier weapon should be called the Pennsylvania long rifle or the Kentucky long rifle.

The dispute will be settled—at least temporarily—in the return match Oct. 12 at Barbourville, Ky., with victory going to the team with the highest total score for the two rounds.

Scranton, though not a competitor, got into the act and tried out a long rifle on a six-inch bull's-eye painted on a barn door, at 50 yards distance.

After warning some 2,500 spectators to step back about 100 miles, and advising the civil air patrol to warn planes away from the area, Scranton let fly with a blast that hit the bull's-eye squarely and brought a cheer from the crowd, which had fearlessly stayed well within the 100-mile danger zone.

His marksmanship won the governor membership in the National Association for the Preservation of Pennsylvania Rifle Shooting. The presentation was made by Capt. Robert N. Chadwick of Chadds Ford, Pa., coach of the team and father of Miss Pennsylvania Rifle Duane Chadwick, 20.

A Kentucky rifleman, Cook Cundiff of Lexington, growled that the Pennsylvanians had tried to spoil the visitors' aim by taking them to dinner, plying them with "that cheap Pennsylvania Monongahela rye whisky instead of Kentucky bourbon," and dazzling them with "Pennsylvania beauties."

The Kentuckians took a 310-300 lead which they never gave up, in the first of the day's three events, but seemed to think they could have done better but for the Pennsylvanians' sabotage.

"Just wait till we get them down in Barbourville in the return match," Cundiff warned. "We'll feed them some of that good Kentucky bourbon and let them see some of those fine Kentucky ladies. They won't have a chance."

On the official level, the feud continued as Richard Myers, publicist for the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Society, addressed himself to Col. George Chinn, director of the Kentucky Historical Society, and said:

"I want you to admit one thing, colonel. All this publicity and this affair have called attention to the fact that Pennsylvania has a claim on the rifle."

"Of course," Chinn responded, laughing. "But most of all it has allowed people to find out that there really is a Pennsylvania."

But Chinn did say the match promoted good-will and good humor.

And the governor of newly discovered Pennsylvania, perhaps pleased with his bull's-eye, expressed hope in a brief speech, that the shooting match will become an annual event.

STEEL TANKS SPARKED

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — The Rawlins Fire Department is convinced. You can have fires just about any place.

The city's steel water tank was being cleaned when sparks from the equipment set fire to the tank's asphalt bottom.

Scranton Boosts Pottstown

HARRISBURG (AP)—All Gov. Scranton's capitol reception room needs now is a checkout counter. It has all the other aspects of a supermarket.

A mass of comestibles, combustibles, and commercials blossomed Friday in the governors' outer office beneath the banner of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce.

A governor's office aide said the retailing look is part of the administration's efforts to boost business. Any cities desiring to display their wares will be welcome to use the reception room.

The governor brought the goods back from Pottstown, where he delivered a speech to the chamber Thursday night on the merits of constitutional reform.

For its own approach to reform in the governor's office, the chamber supplied bread, rolls, paper cups, pie (including shoofly pie), cheese, a red umbrella, steel bookends, shoe polish, paint, thread, needles, thumbtacks, men's shorts, cuff links, thermometers, coasters, headlights, underwear shirts, ashtrays shaped like auto tires, something described as a Pennsylvania Dutch hibachi, a food chopper, frozen food packages (but no food inside) and butter pretzels.

During the preceding administration of Gov. David L. Lawrence the capitol rotunda was the favorite repository for commercial exhibits. Finally, as the exhibits threatened to crowd out the flags of Pennsylvania's Civil War regiments, public complaints led the administration to abandon displays there entirely.

Hunting License Sales Drop

STROUDSBURG — The sale of resident hunting licenses in Monroe County during the 1962 license year dropped, while the sale of non-resident increased.

Hunters bought 7,813 licenses and non-resident hunters were issued 848 hunting permits during 1962, according to the Pennsylvania Game Commission in Harrisburg. This was 105 less resident licenses than were issued during 1961. The sale of non-resident licenses was 84 over the previous year.

In Pike County the sale of 4,212 resident licenses was an increase of 230 over the 1961 sale. Non-resident hunters purchased 2,555 licenses during 1962 an increase of 104.

Final figures on last year's license sale released by the Game Commission yesterday showed a total of 926,976 residents purchased hunting licenses during the 12-month period beginning Sept. 1, 1962 and ending Aug. 31, 1963. The figure was down 6,370 from the 1961 license year.

The sale non-resident licenses—increasing since 1953—totaled 48,872. For the past two years Pennsylvania has led all eastern states in non-resident sales and last year was topped only by Colorado, South Dakota, Utah and Wyoming.

Arraignment Adjourned In Pike County Shooting

MILFORD—The arraignment of a 19-year-old former Allentown man charged with the murder of Kenneth Zerfass, 38, of 42-44 Elm Drive in Westerville, on Saturday was adjourned until Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Justice of the Peace Willard Durr of Milford heard lawyers for Robert Morgan plead for a continuance of arraignment proceedings until they are able to get the services of a Pike County lawyer to represent Morgan.

The shooting happened Thursday and was the culmination of an argument between Morgan and Zerfass over Zerfass' 17-year-old daughter, Sharon.

Zerfass objected to Morgan courting the girl and state police at Milford said Zerfass appeared at the Morgan summer cottage in Blooming Grove Township "shouting and yelling."

Zerfass returned later with a 16-gauge shotgun and began firing at the cottage. Morgan called Pike County sheriff Arthur Jebson, picked up a 22 rifle and went outside to "frighten" Zerfass. Morgan said he fired the rifle above his head, but one of the bullets struck Zerfass, killing him instantly.

In a death certificate issued on Saturday, Pike County coroner, James Crelin, said death was caused by a massive lung hemorrhage after the bullet punctured the lung.

Morgan was represented at the hearing by Allentown Atty. Edmund G. Hauff Jr. and William N. Kanehann Jr. Because neither are members of the Pike County Bar Association, Morgan will have to secure local counsel to plead his case.

He was returned to Pike County Jail to await formal arraignment hearing on Wednesday before Durr.

Also taking part in the informal hearing Saturday were Pike County District Attorney Clifton Cloud and Asst. Dist. Atty. Rob-Kayton.

Humane Soc. Has Shawnee Conference

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE — The National Leadership Conference of the Humane Society was told that the National Broadcasting Company received thousands of letters as a result of a humane education discussion on a television program.

Cleveland Amory, society director and radio and television commentator, told the gathering at Shawnee on Delaware that because of his appearance on the Hugh Downs Today show NBC was flooded with requests for literature and information about humane education.

Amory was the featured speaker at the three day conference devoted to the discussion of the Humane Society's program in general and ways and means of reducing the public on the problems the society faces.

Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg of Stroudsburg, president of the Monroe County SPCA, gave the welcoming address at the opening of the conference on Friday. The conference was highlighted by the annual awards dinner Saturday night.

Lions Award Attendance Lapel Pins

STROUDSBURG — Perfect attendance pins were awarded to 14 members of the Stroudsburg Lions Club at its meeting last Tuesday night in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Receiving pins were Dr. Paul Maxwell, Gail Fegley, Ed Katz, Harold Miller, Harold Snyder, William P. Deering, Jack Behan, Charles Swisher, Les Martin, John Regan, Harvey Burrus, Henry Reader, Joseph Michels and Lester Bushnell.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Michael J. Wargo, State Police vice marshal from the Bethlehem substation. His topic was "The Danger of Transporting Combustibles on Modern Highways."

The club will meet Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Milton Shapp Speaks Tonight

STROUDSBURG — Milton J. Shapp will deliver a major address, on constitutional revision tonight at 6:15 p.m. at the Penn-Stroud. Shapp will be guest speaker for the Monroe-Pike Committee for State Constitutional Revision.

Founder and chairman of the board of the Jerrold Company of Philadelphia, Shapp is chairman of the Pennsylvania Committee for State Constitutional Revision. Tonight's program will serve as the formal beginning of the committee's activities in Monroe and Pike Counties.

Reservations may be made by contacting Miss M. Mutchler of 509 Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

William MacFadden, president of the committee, said last night that people who cannot attend the dinner may come to hear Shapp's speech at 7:30. He said 75 have made reservations for the dinner.

Pocono Community Concert Will Feature Brass Quintet

STROUDSBURG — Included in the list of artists to perform this year during the Pocono Community Concert season will be the New York Brass Quintet, Mrs. H. B. George, a member of the membership committee, said last night.

Mrs. George said, "This is the only ensemble of its kind concertizing regularly throughout the world. The quintet will perform on the stage of the East Stroudsburg State College auditorium during the series."

The group was formed more than seven years ago and is composed of skilled instrumentalists. All are graduates of Juilliard School of Music and have a large background of experience in music.

"The quintet is composed of Robert Nagel and Ted Weiss, both trumpet players; Raymond Alonge, French horn; John Swallow, trombone, and Harvey Phillips, tuba," Mrs. George added.

The groups concerts are not restricted to modern compositions. Much of the music is pre-Bach in content. Their repertoire includes a wide variety of styles and periods.

Membership in the Pocono Community Concert Association is now open and headquarters for the drive is in the Penn-Stroud Hotel. The office is open daily, except Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Three Injured In Wind Gap Accident

STROUDSBURG — Three people were injured Saturday at 5:10 p.m. in a two-car accident three-quarters of a mile west of Wind Gap on Legislative Route 165, State Police of the Stroudsburg substation said last night.

Injured were Gilbert Overbeck, 23, of Gilbert, driver of one car; Herbert Gold Jr., a passenger in the Overbeck car, and Irene M. Johns, 52, of 464 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, driver of the second car.

Mrs. Johns was taken to the Easton Hospital for treatment of a concussion, and possible fractures of the left knee and left elbow. Her condition was reported satisfactory by a hospital spokesman last night.

Overbeck was treated for a laceration to his face. Gold was treated for a laceration to his left hand and bruises.

State Police said Overbeck was traveling north on L. R. 165 and was unable to make a right turn on the highway. His car struck the car driven by Mrs. Johns, who was traveling south on the highway.

State Police reported the Overbeck car a total loss. They estimate damage to the Johns vehicle at $2,000.

The investigation will be continued today.

A full-size drawing of your selection will be submitted WITHOUT COST before carving.

Convention Costs

The Pennsylvania Story by Mason Denison on this page today is devoted to the question of how much a convention to rewrite the state constitution will cost the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

One million dollars is a pretty good guess. The 150 elected delegates will be paid $3,000 each day for a salary total of $450,000 plus ten cents a mile for travel. (The round trip from Stroudsburg to Harrisburg where the convention will be held is about 250 miles or $25 worth of travel.)

Organization and administrative expenses will easily eat up the rest of the estimated one million dollars.

It's a lot of money. Is it worth it?

We believe it is worth a lot more to have the state constitution rewritten and brought up to date. We believe it is a very good investment for the taxpayers, and one that the people of Pennsylvania must make.

Many of the weaknesses of the present constitution are costing taxpayers more money than they should have to spend for government services.

The Pennsylvania Bar Assn. believes that money could be saved and the system of justice made more efficient and swift if the judicial article of the present constitution were radically rewritten.

The Committee for State Constitutional Revision argues that the present constitution may be costing us as much as $100 million a year more than we should be spending.

A major argument is that the $1 million limitation on state indebtedness has forced the state to borrow about $1.5 billion through state authorities which must pay a somewhat higher interest rate than the state would have to if it could place the full credit and taxing power of the commonwealth behind its bonds.

Even more tax money is wasted by the 1,600 county, borough, school, water, sewer, parking and airport authorities in Pennsylvania which must borrow money at interest rates even higher than those of the state authorities because municipalities cannot borrow more than seven per cent of their assessed property valuations. About $1.5 billion has been borrowed by local authorities.

Both the $1 million state debt limit and the seven per cent local debt limit should be abolished, leaving present requirements for voter or legislative approval intact.

These revisions may not save $100 million a year, but they will save many times more than the $1 million investment we are asked to make for a constitutional convention.

The money to be saved in more efficient government is only one part of the argument for constitutional revision.

The present 90-year-old constitution is not an efficient legal document. It should be cleaned-up, and reduced in size and scope. It is full of detail which should be left to legislative action rather than constitutional decree.

Two examples:

One section states that "any person who shall fight a duel or send a challenge for that purpose . . . shall be deprived of the right of holding any office of profit or honor in this state . . ."

Another section on private corporations states that in all elections for directors, each director or shareholder may cast all his votes for one candidate or may split them for more than one candidate.

These are some of the sections which are unnecessary or rightly belong in the state legal code. But there is much more legislation which should be in the Pennsylvania statutes and not in the Pennsylvania constitution.

The state constitution, a bulky document, has been amended more than 60 times. It is already a hodge-podge of necessary and unnecessary items. It is time to rewrite it from scratch and it is worth every penny of the $1 million price tag to do it well.

Comment Of The Day

"On his so-called 'conservation' trip, the President seems to have been more interested in the conservation of the Democratic party than in the conservation of America's natural resources.

"The whole purpose of this trip has been obscured by the President's emphasis on political matters, as distinct from the original hope it would be used to awaken the public to the urgent requirements of preserving this nation's tangible and intangible natural heritage."

Maggie For VP

WASHINGTON — I try so hard to ingratiate myself with Senator Margaret Chase Smith. The Lady from Maine has my whole-souled admiration, but I can't convince her of it. She seems to think I write about her with tongue in cheek.

This is a very uncomfortable position in which to write a whole column. Moreover, it is likely to leave you permanently protruding, like a pullover sweater you have loaned to a girl. Consequently, I want to assure Madame Smith that I am as sincere as the day is long in certain parts of the world when I put her up for Vice President on the Two-Senator, or Barry-Maggie, ticket.

When Senator Smith voted with Senator Goldwater against re-election of the nuclear test ban treaty she made herself a natural running mate for the treaty-resistant Arizona. They now have so much in common that "mutual" is no name for it.

They are both members of the World's Most Exclusive Gentlemen's Club. That's what they still call the Senate despite repeated distaff invasions. They both saw eyeball to eyeball without blinking on an issue that otherwise divided the Senate 80 to 19 — and if you ever tried to stare down Senator Smith on any issue, foreign or domestic, you would appreciate that seeing her way is much easier on the optic nerves.

Both are now established in the national mind as sufficiently conservative to escape denunciation as well-worn liberals. Both are skilled in military and space matters. Senator Goldwater is a member of the Senate Armed Service Committee. Senator Smith complements this as a member of the Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee.

Why, bless my Pentagon-brainwashed soul — they're a unified command!

Between them they could be this nation's first Military Junta. And their lives wouldn't be complicated by kinkfolk. Neither has brothers anxious to get into the political act with them.

They would be free from the most damning political denunciation of all. Not even their most scoundrelous traducers could accuse them of being too youthful.

Senator Goldwater is 54. A certain young whippersnapper in the Senate was barely 40 when he began to show a Presidential rush. Senator Smith is one of the few senators to omit her age from the Congressional Directory, but I know how old she was previous to 1900.

You see how I cherish and protect her!

In addition to being a space and military authority, Mrs. Smith is cognizant of the common duties of the American housewife. This means she has practically everything going for her, except Kennedy endorsement.

Look what she can say for herself: if she runs for Vice President, she can say she's been in on everything, national and international. About all Lyndon Johnson will be able to say he's been in — if he can summon the daring to run for re-election against her — is Scandinavia.

Furthermore, Mrs. Smith, if she didn't have such a warm, charitable nature, could alienate some of the affection the current Vice President won for himself on his Scandinavian trip. She could pass the word quietly to the Swedes that LBJ is one Johnson who is not Swedish.

Room in rather cramped quarters would have to be made for Senator Smith, of course, if she ran with Senator Goldwater. I think the shortage of space was best described at a Goldwater-type cocktail rally the other evening.

A gentleman came up to Goldwater, dragging his wife, "Senator," he said, "I want you to meet my missus. She's to the right of you."

Senator Goldwater took the lady's hand sympathetically, and told her: "There's not much room over there."

But the most remarkable thing Senators Smith and Goldwater have in common is that both are Republicans. You don't find many Republicans seeing eyeball to eyeball on the test ban treaty without flinching.

Would Pinchot Favor Tocks Island Dam?

Blend together an action letter to the editor, President Kennedy's visit to Milford, shake well and you come up with a concoction that may or may not be good for human consumption. The auction brings to mind the recent sale of the A. Mitchell Palmer house in Stroudsburg, while the letter to editor mis-sive from Theresa Edinger of Dingman's Ferry wondered if the late Gifford Pinchot would be a leading member of the Anti-Dam (Tocks Island) Committee.

The third ingredient pictures President Kennedy dedicating the Pinchot institute at Milford, commemorating the former Pennsylvania governor who was a leading nationwide fighter for conservation for years.

What is the connection between Palmer, Theresa Edinger, Pinchot and Kennedy?

The story starts in 1920 when Palmer, the Attorney General of the United States, was shunning private-interest garbs until he came into contact with a political foe, Gifford Pinchot.

Palmer was prosecuting oil-land cases in California and decided to let railroads and private concerns grab the territories without appealing the government's case.

During the period Palmer was attempting to push his way into the Democratic nomination for president, pacifying capital interests was one way he figured he could cut short the distance to the White House.

However, Pinchot was not satisfied and he wrote Palmer arguing that lands of such great importance to the nation should not be abandoned without trying every possible remedy no matter how small the chances of success.

The Wilson administration, led by Woodrow's secretary, sensed a major scandal if the Pinchot probing got out of hand. Joseph Tumulty, Wilson's aide brought Pinchot's letter to the attention of the president's wife. But Mrs. Wilson, it has been reported, never turned the message over to her ill and bed-ridden husband.

Pinchot kept up his battle against Palmer juggling scores of copies of his letter. In no time his charges against A. Mitchell showed up in big type in newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

The matter was hashed out before a congressional investigating committee. Palmer's explanation didn't even answer Pinchot and the war between the arch political enemies resumed again. After waiting a month for Palmer's reply, Pinchot wrote President Wilson, charging the former Stroudsburg resident with "refusing to protect public interest and the attorney-general's ties with oil companies."

Stanley Cohen in his book about the life of Palmer said, "Pinchot's accusations were as absurd as those made by Rep. Palmer in 1909 when he tried to connect the future Pennsylvania governor with lumber magnates in explaining the conservationist's opposition to lower lumber tariffs."

Cohen penned "although Pinchot had indeed represented a group of independent, Pennsylvania-owned oil companies in a 1915 suit involving Oklahoma oil leases, there was no evidence of a relationship between these two firms and the California oil lands."

WASHINGTON — The dark fear of a U.S.-Soviet deal on South Vietnam is forcing Prince Souvanna Phouma to make statements in public as different as night and day from his private ones.

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — Any idea what it will cost if Pennsylvania's voters this fall approve the idea of calling a constitutional convention to rewrite the present document?

Chances are good — if you are like most other people in the Keystone State — that you haven't the slightest idea.

If you fall within this group, hold your breath and dig into your pocketbook — for it is estimated that the convention (that is, the drafting of the proposed new constitution) will cost in the neighborhood of one million smackeroos ($1,000,000).

Unfortunately perhaps, there is no great gifthorse available to pick up this tab, which means the bill must be picked up by none other than taxpayers of the Keystone State themselves.

But perhaps it's worth it; that's the decision Pennsylvania's taxpaying voters will make November 5.

On the cost front, if they approve the convention idea it will be within the seemingly contemporary theme (particularly on the bureaucratic level) that "you gotta spend money today to make money."

It's something like the Pentagon's announcement in Washington last week that while "Operation Big Lift" upcoming late in October (fast-flying 15,000 troops to Europe on an experimental basis) will cost $20,000,000, it may save $300,000,000 later.

This backdoor pattern is the pattern today — and from this standpoint the million-dollar pitance for Pennsylvania's constitutional convention certainly may not be out of line. (Proponents of the "new constitution" idea insist a new document ultimately will save quite a few shillings for the Commonwealth.)

Thus the money may be well spent — depending on how you look at it. In any event, the voters themselves will have the last say, on this one at least, when they motor to the polls November 5.

It is interesting to conjecture as to what would be Pinchot's reaction to Senator Clark's efforts. It is my opinion that if he were alive, Gifford Pinchot would be the leading member of the Anti-Dam Committee.

Not too many hours after the Dingman's woman wrote her letter President Kennedy arrived for the Milford dedication of the Pinchot Conservation Institute. Riding with the chief executive was Sen. Clark, a staunch supporter of many of Kennedy's proposals, including the Tocks Island project.

The president spoke to 10,000 people in the small Pike County town which is near the heart of the Tocks Island 75-mile recreation and water resources proposal.

The president in a many-word prepared speech had only three lines of reference to the Tocks project. Advocates felt JFK's mere mention was enough fuel for the occasion, especially at a dedication for the man who was known as Mr. Conservation. Few figured the fire was cooled off by the few remarks.

What does it add up to? Pinchot favored government swallowing up land in 1920. In 1963 a Dingman's Ferry woman predicts that if he were alive the ex-head of the Keystone State would be a leading figure in the anti-Dam (Tocks) Committee.

It certainly would be interesting to learn if Pinchot would be on the side of government or switching from his stand of 1920 and going Anti-Dam.

Maybe the President had a reason for practically bypassing reference to Tocks. And possibly Sen. Clark was in the wrong car traveling in the wrong town.

If you put the cart before the horse, Pinchot would be leading Tocks' construction. That is if you put together the fact that he was an expert conservationist and Tocks with the national recreation area is still in some quarters as a boon to conservation. It all depends on what side of the fence you are on.

One thing is sure, A. Mitchell Palmer started this column 43 years ago when he was performing his duties as Attorney General of the United States.

The unanswered questions of that period are still unanswered today. But the arguments will roll on.

The Allen-Scott Report

Laotian Warning

A key figure in the backstage diplomatic talks involving Vietnam, the Prime Minister of Laos appears at times like a Soviet puppet in his public statements, supporting a solution of war-torn Vietnam parallel to the one instituted in his country.

In private conversations, the charming Laotian Prince acts like a modern Paul Revere, warning U.S. officials against forcing South Vietnam, his southern neighbor, into a coalition government with Communist North Vietnam.

If South Vietnam is neutralized, Prince Souvanna Phouma is convinced that the Communists would in a very short time take over not only all of Vietnam but Southeast Asia as well.

"A coalition government in Vietnam will not work," Prince Souvanna Phouma warned a group of legislators gathered at the Washington residence of Under Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman. "The Communists in the north are too well organized and armed. It would only be a matter of weeks before all of Vietnam would be in Communist hands."

"Didn't you urge the formation of a coalition government in South Vietnam in a recent statement in New York?" challenged Secretary Harriman, who privately is pushing for a political solution in Vietnam.

After a long silent glance at Harriman, who negotiated the faltering coalition in Laos, Prince Souvanna Phouma turned to the sitting legislators and smiling broadly, said:

"After hearing my plea, I believe you gentlemen will regard my remarks in New York as being misquoted or misconstrued by the press. I believe that is the diplomatic way to express it."

Inside Story — Despite this timely warning that the U.S. can't deal with the Communists in Vietnam, a powerful group of President Kennedy's chief policy makers are continuing their backstage push for a coalition government in Vietnam.

Headed by Secretary Harriman, these advisers argue that the price of a military victory in the dirty Vietnamese war is higher than American vital interests can justify and that the only alternative is a political solution.

They stress that their position is supported by the findings of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and General Maxwell Taylor, who are now in Saigon on a special presidential fact-finding mission.

The first McNamara-Taylor cables indicate that the Communist guerrillas, the Viet Congs, cannot be defeated in South Vietnam as long as they have an open supply line to North Vietnam.

Since it is U.S. policy not to extend the war into North Vietnam, the Harriman group point out that a military solution is not possible.

They contend that unification and neutralization of South Vietnam should be the basis for ending the war there. Once the Communists agree to that type of settlement, the U.S. should move to reconvene the Geneva Conference of 1954 and negotiate the agreement regardless of the position of South Vietnam's President Diem.

This softline approach is being vigorously opposed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. If necessary, they favor operating directly against North Vietnam by bombing the supply lines to the Viet Cong guerrillas in order to win the war.

President Kennedy, who is leaning toward a diplomatic settlement, will make his fateful decision on Vietnam after Secretary McNamara and General Taylor return with their recommendations.

Diplomatic Wire — Fresh from his secret talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Yugoslav's Tito is reported carrying a Russian offer to President Kennedy to support a coalition government in South Vietnam. He will be the President's personal guest at a "working luncheon" at the White House on Oct. 17. Tito, who wants to do some traveling in the U.S., is being politely told by the State Department that he should keep his junketing to stops in Washington, New York, and California for his own safety. At least two Yugoslavian refugees now in the U.S. have vowed to try to kill the Communist dictator during his U.S. trip. Tito, who will speak at the United Nations on Oct. 22, plans to stay in the U.S. eight days. Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., has quietly blocked Tito from speaking to a Joint Session of Congress by notifying the State Department that the Communist dictator was not welcomed.

... Roger Hillsman, Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, has denied under oath before the House Foreign Affairs Committee that he sent a cable to U.S. Information Service officials in Saigon, urging the Vietnamese Army to get rid of President Diem and his brother and sister-in-law, the highly publicized Ngo Dinh Nhu. Hillsman, once director of the State Department's intelligence branch, is at loggerheads with William Bundy, Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Affairs. Bundy, a brother of Presidential Assistant George Bundy, is seeking Hillsman's key post in the State Department, according to friends of the latter. They have traced the leak of the story about the diplomatic cable to Bundy's office in the Pentagon.

Mental Health Assn. Plans Training For Volunteers

STROUDSBURG — The Monroe County Mental Health Assn. has invited volunteers for its proposed mental health clinic to the first session of a training program conducted by Dr. Margaret G. Evermon.

The first session will coincide with the next meeting of the association's board of directors Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the Penn-Seward Hotel.

Dr. Evermon, a psychiatrist and member of the board of directors, will work with the board's program committee formulating new methods of making the community aware of recent developments in treatment of mental health in childhood and adult ages.

At the last meeting of the board, three new members were welcomed. They are Dr. Eli Berman, Mrs. Lloyd G. Colio, and Frank J. Gochal.

Last Thursday the association presented a film, "Farewell to Childhood," at Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School.

The film deals with a rebellious adolescent who tried to solve her problems by running away and was straightened out by a guidance counselor.

A discussion led by Dr. Jack Porter, mental health expert and head of the Woods School in Langhorne, followed the film.

The Monroe County Mental Health Assn. is developing a film library available for community programs. Information can be obtained at the association office.

Teachers Attending Symposia

BETHLEHEM — Two Stroud Union High School teachers will attend a science symposia at Lehigh University in Bethlehem. The first class was held Saturday and the second Friday Oct. 11.

The teachers are Kenneth Lee, instructor of chemistry and physics, and John Regan, chemistry instructor, attended Saturday and Regan will attend the Oct. 11 Program.

The programs are being presented by the Lehigh department of metallurgical engineering, in conjunction with the school's Materials Research Center.

The one day symposia is designed to assist in interesting more and superior high school students in materials sciences and engineering by providing high school teachers of physics, chemistry, and related earth sciences with a full understanding of the materials field.

Registration is open for the second of the two programs to be conducted at Lehigh, Friday, Oct. 11.

Stroudsburg Sporting Goods Store Features Hunting Supplies

Pipher Enlarges Rifle Department

Bill Pipher's Stroudsburg Sporting Goods Store, 13 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, is ready for the Archery Hunting Season that opens Monday, Oct. 7, and continues thru October 31, has his store filled with the latest and most complete line of archery hunting equipment.

In case the archer hunters miss the season with the bow and arrow, he can still look forward to the regular hunting season from Dec. 2 to 14 for buck and Dec. 16 and 17 for antlerless deer, with either bow or gun.

In Pennsylvania, Bill says, you can hunt every day except Sunday. Only one deer is allowed per hunter, bow or gun. Killing deer by bow and arrow must be reported the same as those killed by gun.

In addition to the complete line of archery equipment, Bill has an equally equipped line of hunting rifles, not overlooking other hunting equipment such as the top names in hunting clothes including boots and all the accessories for the most avid hunter.

Recently Bill has enlarged his store making more room for field and stream equipment. Also made larger is the used gun department where you will find guns in excellent condition. If you haven't been to Stroudsburg Sporting Goods lately you have a big surprise in store.

Pipher is extra busy due to the fact he takes pride in seeing that his "hunting customer" gets what he really needs for the particular type of hunting he wants to do.

Modestly, Bill passes his more than 25 years of hunting experience and knowledge on to his customers in order to help get the most usage and best results from the equipment he sells. He backs up this policy with selling only quality and top name products.

Although the Stroudsburg Sporting Goods Store is completely stocked for every type of sporting need, for the occasional item that a customer might want, Pipher makes every effort to supply it.

For the beginner or the old-timer, it's always a pleasure to stop at Stroudsburg Sporting Goods. The oldtimers know that this is the place they can rely on for quality equipment they have been using throughout the years.

The beginners will get helpful advice on what to use and how to use it without the fear of being loaded up with "extras."

Not only does Pipher's Stroudsburg Sporting Goods stock the most complete line of quality hunting equipment but there you find the best equipment for hunters, archers, bowlers, baseball equipment, basketball, football just to mention a few of the more prominent sports. There are others and of course all the accessories that go with each sport.

If you haven't obtained your hunting license for 1963, stop in at Stroudsburg Sporting Goods and pick one up. You'll probably want a few extra arrows, a box of shells or a few extra rounds of cartridges for the coming season.

Trapping enthusiasts can have their needs fulfilled at Pipher's Sporting Goods Store plus decoys and blue rock for the marksmen.

Several reloading kits are in stock for those who like to reload their own shells and, of course, ammunition for all types of guns.

Not only does Bill carry the equipment for the field and stream but also for the Athletic minded there is the Brunswick-MacGregor sports equipment... footballs, helmets, kicking tees, baseball equipment, golf, tennis, basketball equipment.

Bill Pipher's Stroudsburg Sporting Goods Store is the store you can depend on for the finest in all phases of sports.

Hamill's Paint Center Features Cement Paint

Painting Basements

You can change your basement from a dreary hole in the ground into a bright family or play room with a few gallons of colorful, quick-drying odorless paint and a few hours of work in which every family member can join.

Since almost all basement walls contain cement in one form or another, you must use a paint that will not be affected by the alkali present in cement which is not compatible with ordinary oil paint. In addition to selecting the right paint, proper surface preparation and correct application are also necessary for a successful job, it is pointed out by Hamill's Paint Center, 375 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

There are a number of different U.G.L. paints that are suitable for basement walls. Easiest to use is U.G.L. Cement Sealer, made for use on masonry; it's odorless and tools clean in plain water. Highly regarded, too, is U.G.L. Spurge, U.G.L. Concrete Floor Paint and U.G.L. Cement Paint. U.G.L. not only gives basements beauty but also waterproofs.

It is important to use only quality paints, because only quality paints will give satisfactory service over cement-containing surfaces, have lasting hiding power and retain their true colors. To be sure of getting a quality product, ask Hamill's about U.G.L. Drylok Products.

After selecting your color and type of paint, the next step is to prepare the surface properly. In most instances this consists only of removing dirt, dust and loose or crumbling material with a wire brush. Grease or oil should be wiped away with paint thinner or detergent. Be sure to patch or caulk all cracks and holes. A crumbly surface may need a coat of special binding conditioner.

You don't have to wait for the walls to dry after washing if you use the water-thinned paints. But remember that the water will cause any bare metal in the walls to rust and stain the paint unless you prime the metal first with an anti-corrosive metal primer. After this has dried, apply the paint with brush, roller or spray.

U.G.L. products are popular because they are long-lasting and because they will prevent moisture under low pressure from coming through the walls. The best way to keep permeable basement walls dry is to apply a heavy coat of asphalt to the outside of the walls before back-filling. This should, of course, be done while the house is being built. In addition, the earth near the foundation should be graded for easy run off of rain water.

Generally light colors are chosen for basement walls to obtain a maximum amount of light reflection. Glossy paints are more easily cleaned than flat paints and have a greater resistance to mildew. Flat paints, however, have greater hiding power, do not show up surface irregularities and diffuse the light with less glare.

On basement floors use U.G.L. Drylok Concrete Floor Paint, meant for use on concrete. They are formulated to withstand the abrasion of shoes.

Singer Eliminates Bobbin-Winding

Bothersome bobbin-winding has been eliminated with the advent of the Singer Company's new Slant Needle Deluxe sewing machine, according to Donald Michael, store manager of Singer Sewing Center, 577 Main St. in Stroudsburg.

Visitors to the Singer Sewing Center may now see and try the new machine, Mr. Donald Michael said.

A Singer exclusive—the dramatically new Auto Reel system—allows the user of the Slant Needle Deluxe to simply push a button and fill a reel in place with thread from the needle. This reel need not be taken out, even to change colors, and it can be filled with just the amount of thread needed. When the reel is filled (at the very fast rate of a yard a second), the button is released and the machine is ready to sew.

Besides doing away with bobbin winding, the new Singer Slant Needle Deluxe eliminates the necessity of adjusting bobbin tension, Michael pointed out. In addition, too, the friction-free spool pin has been placed in a horizontal, instead of vertical position. The spool doesn't turn, thereby eliminating spool drag which results in a smoother stitch.

"A sewing machine which would do away with bobbin winding has always been the Number One want of women who sew, according to every survey taken on this subject," Michael said. "Now, finally, the Slant Needle Deluxe satisfies that desire."

Other Singer exclusives on the new machine are: a Slant Needle for better vision and sewing comfort; a pressure regulating dial, calibrated for accuracy and special setting for darning; an elevator-type throat plate with seam guide markings, and lever-operated for easy removal; both gear motor drive and geared rotary mechanism for "whisper quiet" operation.

The new machine was styled by the well-known industrial design firm of Henry Dreyfuss. Made of sturdy, lightweight aluminum, its dominant color is a pleasing alabaster grey, complemented by a control panel in blue. Attachments and accessories, neatly packed in a handy compartmented box, are supplied with the machine. The machine is also designed to fit any one of a wide variety of Singer cabinets and portable combinations.

Private Land Owners Lead

The nation will pay tribute to the forest products industry on October 20-26 during the fourth National Forest Products Week.

It is a different industry today than during the old swampland era when lumbermen moved across the country from one timber growing region to another.

Timber companies have their roots down deep, one industry leader observes, and they intend to make this country a perpetual timber growing land, supplying wood for our nation's needs forever.

Private forest land owners since 1941 have launched the greatest conservation program in all history.

Nation Claims Best Forests

The world's most prolific forests are found in the northwest corner of the United States. Covering 30 million acres in western Oregon and Washington, these forests contain 600 billion board feet of timber.

The nation will take a new look at her timber resources and products on October 20-26 when National Forest Products Week is observed for the fourth consecutive year.

Because Douglas fir is the dominant species, the region takes its name from that tree. The average rainfall of 40 inches a year makes for ideal growing conditions when coupled with the high site quality of the soil. The Douglas fir forests are sometimes called the rain forests, and produce 700 board feet of lumber per acre per year.

"Your LENOX Comfort Craftsmen"

An autumn home check-up in preparation for the winter heating season should include inspection, repair, and if necessary, installation of a humidification system. Excessive dryness can damage the house, cause discomfort, even illness, and at the same time waste fuel. Aside from the loss of fuel, the destructive qualities of lack of humidity are just as bad in areas where artificial heating is not necessary but where the air is too dry much of the year.

The relative humidity in heated unhumidified homes averages between 10 and 15 per cent in the winter. And in many homes, the relative humidity drops as low as three per cent when the inside temperature is 70 degrees Fahrenheit and the outside temperature hits zero. When one shivers in the winter, puts on a sweater and pushes up the thermostat, the real need may be higher humidity and not higher temperature.

With the proper humidity, one can be comfortable at temperatures three to eight degrees lower than the reading required for a relative humidity of 10 to 15 per cent.

Excessive dryness can cause veneers on furniture to peel. Moldings shrink. Paintings tend to dry out and crack. Fine leather bookbindings crack and the pages become brittle. Leather furniture dries out. Rugs and carpets become brittle. Their fibers become brittle, break loose and wear life is shortened. Wallpaper loosens and peels. Floorboards separate and annoying creaks result.

A variety of minor household troubles also occur: house plants wilt and the piano goes out of tune.

More serious is the effect of excessive dryness upon human health. The head of the ear, nose and throat section of New York's Lincoln Hospital, Dr. Joseph Lubard, says there is a definite correlation between colds and humidity.

"It is significant," says Dr. Lubard, "that coincidental with the institution of furnace heat in the fall, individuals, especially children become subject to repeated attacks of the usual seasonal upper respiratory infections. Examination of the nose and throat of these patients will show the characteristic dry spots, incriminating evidence against the low humidity. The irritations of the nose and throat will usually persist until the air in the living quarters, especially the bedroom, is properly humidified."

Lack of moisture in the air also has an unpleasant cosmetic effect. Overheated dry air evaporates the natural moisture from the skin, causing rough, chapped skin and lifeless dry hair.

Relative humidity (the amount of moisture in the air to what the air could hold if completely saturated) should be related to outdoor temperature. An authority on the subject, James H. Muencke, says that, for example, when the outdoor temperature is 10 degrees, the relative humidity inside the home should be 30; when the temperature is 20, the humidity should be 35. As the executive of a company that manufactures automatic controls, he naturally believes that the best way to make home humidifiers work properly is to equip them with such controls, which automatically turn the moisture on or off according to the relative humidity setting. He adds that, for the best performance, the humidity control should be mounted on the inside wall, not in the direct path of furnace discharge air or drafts from open doors or windows.

Preserve With Paint

Have you carefully studied the outside of your home in recent months? Wood that is not fully protected against the weather can rot away, making costly repairs a necessity. Uncoated brick, stone, stucco and cinder blocks play host to moisture, requiring more fuel to counteract the clammy dampness in the walls. Tin, iron, and steel that are not safeguarded will rust. All of this expensive damage can be prevented by keeping the outside of a structure well-protected with quality paint products that are made especially for the purpose, says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

HEATING SYSTEM
To provide top performance during the cold winter months just ahead, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, the heating system of your home must be perfectly balanced. This means that a heating contractor should be called in before the heating season begins to see that the thermostat is operating properly, and that the boiler is in condition to respond to changing signals from the control.

Lambert Post Auxiliary Honored

STROUDSBURG—The Ladies Auxiliary to Thomas F. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has received a citation for its outstanding contribution to Civil Defense activities in Monroe County as well as to VFW Auxiliary work in the Dept. of Pennsylvania.

The award was made Saturday night by Mrs. Edna P. Tepsic, president of the Dept. of Pennsylvania VFW Auxiliary, at the annual past commanders' and past presidents' dinner at the local post home.

Mrs. Georgia Albertson was recipient of the award as director of the VFW Mass Care Center No. 1 in Monroe County. Mrs. Tepsic then appointed Mrs. Albertson as Civil Defense Director of the Ladies Auxiliary, Dept. of Penna., Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the 1963-1964 term.

Past Dept. Commander William J. Tepsic, husband of the Dept. Ladies Auxiliary president also cited Lambert Post as one of the top five in the Dept. of Penna.

Past commanders and past presidents paid tribute to the auxiliary charter members on their 20th anniversary. Charter members in attendance were: Hazel Albert, Lydia Christensen, Esther Flowers, Evelyn Hastie, Flossie Snyder, Jeanette Batory, Sadie Decker, Jeanette Gehris, Frances Ransberger, Ada Steen, Emilie Bush, Alvertia Dennis, Muriel Hughes, Nellie Rustine, Regina Weller, Clara Catlin, Catherine Fabel, Ruth Marshall, Blanche Shaffer.

A congratulatory plaque was presented by the post to the auxiliary in recognition of its 20 years of outstanding community service contributions.

Poppy citations were presented to Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes and the Lambert Cadets Jr. Drum Corps for their contribution in raising monies through poppy sales for the rehabilitation program of the post and auxiliary for needy veterans and their families.

Twenty-year membership pins were awarded to the following post members: Earl Arnold, Robert Ellenberger, Jimmy Dave, Ed Kitzman, Fred Dennis, Tom Shiffer, George Frantz, Stan Sipiroth, Jesse Albert, Harvey Possinger.

Guests from Easton, Bethlehem, Palmerton, Scranton, and New York City attended the affair. Major H. G. Baker of the East Stroudsburg Salvation Army gave the invocation and benediction. Celia Sipiroth, past auxiliary president, was the mistress of ceremonies. Presentation was under the direction of George J. Straka, post quartermaster and assistant chief of staff for the Dept. of Penna. VFW. Elmer D. Christine, local attorney, and a past dept. commander, assisted in the presentations.

Following the banquet, an entertainment skit, "The VFW Follies" under the direction of Karen Roth and featuring her music and dance school group, was presented.

The chess collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City contains a set commemorating the Revolutionary War Battle of Saratoga in 1777. The equivalents of the kings and queens are George Washington and Liberty opposing George III and Britannia.

NAACP Case Is Settled

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Board of Education settled out of federal court Thursday a discrimination suit filed two years ago by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP charged the school board discriminated against Negro pupils and teachers.

In the settlement, the board agreed to assign all new qualified teachers entering the system to all-Negro or predominantly all-Negro schools until the number of substitute teachers in these schools is reduced to the citywide level.

Thus, for the first time the board will limit the right of teachers to pick the schools in which they will teach.

The school board also agreed, starting next September, to make changes in pupil assignments that will foster integration.

If You're Sure Of Yourself, The Boss Feels Sure Of You

By Roberta Fleming Roesch
"Assurance" is two-thirds of success, or so the saying goes. But from where we're thinking things over, being so revoltingly sure of yourself that you carry a sign in front of you that says "I know it all," or being so terribly unsure of yourself that you tell the world "I don't know" are two undesirable situations.

Strike A Balance
And when it comes to jobs we're all for tempering the first one with a little humility and the second with courage and assurance.

Your own self-assurance is important, because when any employer hires you, one of the things he's buying is a sense of assurance, that you know what you're talking about. And when you indicate that you don't, it knocks the props right out from under him.

Own Experience
We ran into this feeling not very long ago when we hired two nurses to see us through a crisis. When the crisis came, however, the nurse we wanted to depend upon was completely unsure of herself.

"What's the right thing to do?" we asked feverishly.

"I'm afraid I don't know," she said. "I've never run into this!"

Don't Pay For Ignorance
Employers, of course, don't want you to answer what you don't know. However there's something to be said for honesty.

But there's also something solid to say for assurance when you need it because you can always go out and dig and come up with something to do. You can always say with assurance "We'll find out and then we'll do it."

A lawyer starting out on the job could have said this recently when we went to him with a question. We liked him and wanted to help him with all the business we could.

But he turned our business away from him with his reply to our query: "That question is tough to answer," he said. "I wouldn't know what to do."

Somehow, we felt, he could have found out, with law books at his side and senior lawyers around him from whom he could have sought help. But his lack of assurance weakened ours.

We went to somebody else. We couldn't take our chances

Don't Be So Certain That You Wear A "Know-It-All" Sign

with someone who didn't know. Remember this when you're tempted to say "I don't know" on your job, because when you do it often enough any employer's assurance in you drops.

Solve It Yourself
Instead, help your employer depend upon you by acting as if you know. Then, on your own, find the answer to the problem you must solve.

Legion Auxiliary To Install

Newfoundland — Installation of the newly-elected officers of the Auxiliary of Phillips-Zacharias-Phillips Post 859, American Legion, will be held on Oct. 1 at the Castle Restaurant, Scranton, with Mrs. Mildred Miller, Wayne-Pike County Council Director from Matamoras, as the installing officer.

To be installed are Alberta Rochfort, president; Thelma Peet, first vice president; Eleanor Staph, second vice president; Cora Lange, secretary; Doris Bartleson, treasurer; Barbara Barnes, chaplain; Connie Edwards, historian; Ruth Cunningham and Helen Feigel, sergeants-at-arms.

Members wishing to attend the installation dinner may make reservations with Eleanor Staph.

Miss Groner Tendered Shower

East Stroudsburg — A surprise bridal shower was tendered Saturday night in honor of Miss Ardeth Groner, who will become the bride of Luther Longenberger on October 5 at 4 p.m. in St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg.

The shower was given by Miss Marie L. Paul and Mrs. Robert Henry, at the latter's residence, 269 Brodhead Ave., East Stroudsburg. Invited guests were co-workers from the Pocono Medical Building and the General Hospital of Monroe County.

Attending were Mrs. Emmy Yetter, Mrs. Eve Collins, Mrs. Youdale Seese, Miss Bonnie Sanders, Mrs. Ruth Zettlemoyer, Mrs. Beulah Blackford, Mrs. Arlene Tittle, Mrs. Mary Lee, Mrs. Dorothy Wildrick, Mrs. Abbie Paul, Mrs. Lois Cramer Slutter, Mrs. Vesta Sloat, Mrs. Agnes Callery, Mrs. Leah Paul, Miss Pam Tittle, Mrs. Foster Groner, and the hostesses.

Those unable to attend but sending gifts included Mrs. Ruth Staples, Mrs. Margaret Decker, Miss Brenda Kaiser, Miss Ruthann Zettlemoyer, Mrs. Frances Muffley and Mrs. Mildred Harloe.

Engagement Announced

Echo Lake — The engagement of Mrs. Susan Jane Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred May, Jr., of East Stroudsburg RD 1, to George H. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clark, Sr., of Cresco was announced at a buffet luncheon on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. May.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of the East Stroudsburg High School and is employed with the Business Supply Corp. of America, at Skypot.

Mr. Clark is a graduate of Pocono Mountain Joint High School, and is employed by Pocono Landscaping, of Mountainhome.

Tannersville Lutheran Women Hear Reports On LCW Sessions

Tannersville — The first meeting of the Autumn season for the Lutheran Church Women of St. Paul's was held at the church this week.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Marilyn Sebring, who opened with prayer and Scripture reading. Mrs. Sebring then spoke on the highlights of the week she spent at Muhlenberg College this Summer, as the delegate from St. Paul's LCW.

LCW Week, planned by the synodical unit, offered opportunity to study, meditate and strengthen the bonds of friendship between sister congregations. The aim was to guide and aid congregations to be more fruitful in their service to the Lord and His church.

Mrs. Sebring stated that various courses were given and studied during the week. First was an enrichment course conducted by the Rev. Wilson Hartzell. Next was "Mission Study," the home church theme. The Rev. W. Carter Merriam was leader. Mildred Zink led the third course, "Audio-Visual Aids."

The Bible study course for the week was in charge of Dr. Emily Werner and was devoted to St. Paul's letters to the Ephesians. Mrs. Sebring presented a most enlightening study from that book, in its entirety.

Mrs. Sebring was one of the 152 persons registered for LCW Week. In addition there was an average of 150 visitors each day.

Following devotions a business meeting was held with Mrs. Cora Sebring presiding. She announced that LCW members were invited to attend a meeting to be held at Muhlenberg College on October 12. Persons wishing to attend should notify Mrs. Marilyn Sebring.

Also announced was a World Mission Workshop to be held at Forks Church, near Easton, on November 2.

Mrs. Evelyn Dodd, Faith and Life committee chairman, thanked all persons who had assisted in arranging the programs and compiling the booklets for the coming year.

Outreach and Fellowship chairman Mrs. Betty Woodling reported on the offerings and reminded the members that a public thank offering service would be held in the church at 10:30 a.m., on Sunday, November 24. Pastor Adams announced that the speaker for that service would be Mrs. Esther Enrick, a parish worker in Philadelphia, and presently employed by the Department of Recreation there.

Donors of altar flowers are needed after November 1. Mrs. Mary Strunk announced. Persons wishing to donate flowers should contact Mrs. Strunk.

Making layettes was discussed and a list of necessary items will be given members in the near future.

"Kate Luther" was announced as the topic for the October meeting. Program leader will be Mrs. Elsie Besedick. Hostesses will be Mrs. Shirley Stetler, Mrs. Grace Doll and Mrs. Kate Rowe.

Mary Jean Loam reported twenty members in attendance.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Strunk, Mrs. Mabel Huffman and Mrs. Wynne Below. Members were dismissed with the missionary benediction.

Mrs. Joan Silvers Heads Stroud Twp. Fire Auxiliary

So. 2 24 Mrs. Joan Silvers LW Stroud Township — Mrs. Adeline White extended thanks and appreciation to all persons who in any way contributed to the success of the recent Stroud Township Volunteer Firemen's Carnival when the September auxiliary meeting was held in the Anamink social hall.

Officers were installed for the coming year. They are president,

Mrs. Joan Silvers; vice president, Mrs. Almira Schmidt; second vice president, Mrs. Thelma Layton; secretary, Mrs. Jane Miller; assistant secretary, Miss Alice Keller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bernice Smith; trustees, Volmer Ace, Lois Merola and Freda Schubert.

Announcement was made that yearly dues are payable October 1. Persons desiring to pay same may mail or give them to the secretary Mrs. Jane Miller, 526 Avenue E, Stroudsburg, or to the treasurer Mrs. Betty Keiper, Route 5, Stroudsburg.

Plans were made to meet at the Municipal Building, North Fifth Street, at 8 p.m., on Wednesday, October 9.

Refreshments were served by the ladies from Northern Stroud.

Garden Club Displays Corsages

Bushkill — All set for the Junior Prom were members of the Bushkill Garden Club with their display of corsages made by the members for their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Irwin, Birch Acres.

Winners by points were Mrs. E. B. Bartram, first; Mrs. Paul Courtwright, second; and Mrs. William Lengua, third.

Guest speaker was Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, of East Stroudsburg who spoke on "Plant Propagation by Rooting", demonstrating the proper techniques. She also spoke on how to recognize poison ivy, whose colorful foliage often attracts the unwary leaf-gatherer this time of year.

Mrs. C. N. Cuillot assisted Mrs. Irwin in serving refreshments to the 22 members and a guest present.

Mrs. Rochfort New Historian

Newfoundland — Mrs. Robert Rochfort, of Sterling, was elected and installed as historian of the Wayne - Pike County Council, American Legion Auxiliary, during the election meeting held at Dingmans Ferry.

Mrs. Rochfort, who is president of the Unit of Phillips-Zacharias-Phillips Post 859, American Legion, Newfoundland, is a past director of the Wayne-Pike County Council, and is former Americanism and Pan - Americanism Chairman for the Department of Pennsylvania.

Candidates To Be Guests Of TLC Council

Snydersville — The opening meeting of the TLC Council of Republican Women will be a covered dish luncheon on Wednesday at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. F. Lee Banta, near Twin Pine Ranch.

Invitations have been sent to local Council women and candidates in the coming election: Jeannette Batory, Mary Emma Garcia and Ruth Slutter. Other special guests will include Mrs. Sadie E. Nechtan, president of the Panther Valley Council of Republican Women and her members from Lansford.

Cars will meet in Tannersville at 10 a.m. A brief business meeting will be held at 11 and luncheon will be served at noon including the favorite covered dishes of the members. They are asked to bring as their guests registered Republican women who are not members of a local council.

Individual members of the council have been busy through the summer. Three of the members attended Crusade Constitution in Harrisburg on June 5. During July they worked at the Bartlett Headquarters in Stroudsburg and conducted a Bartlett mail campaign, and members worked at the polls at the special election. In September members attended the Political Activities Conference in Scranton.

The council's president, Mrs. Mervin Fontanella has been appointed to the convention committee for the annual state convention to be held at the Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg in November.

Elwood Johnson Heads Methodist Youth Fellowship

Mountainhome — Officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, Mountainhome Methodist Church, were elected Sunday for the coming year.

The newly elected president is Elwood Johnson, Jr. Other officers are Thomas Conley, vice president; Paula Reisenwitz, corresponding secretary; Vicki Jurgenson, recording secretary; and Evelyn Moore, treasurer.

More than 20 young people attended the meeting and shared in the program "The Delinquent, The Hipster and The Square."

Old Studebaker Stock

By William A. Doyle

Q. I have a certificate for common stock in the old Studebaker Corporation. That company was "reorganized" in 1935. My stock certificate is dated way before that. I am told by the company that the old stock is worthless. Can this be possible?

I have been advised by other people that the stock certificate I have is bound to be exchangeable for stock in the present Studebaker Corporation.

A. We have had news for you. What you were told by the company is absolutely correct. The common stock of the old Studebaker Corporation (which represented ownership in that company) is now worthless.

When the company went through reorganization proceedings in the 1930s the owners of the old common stock received rights to subscribe to (meaning put up more money and buy) a combination of debentures and common stock in the reorganized Studebaker Corporation.

But those rights expired way back on February 27, 1935. They are now worthless.

This and similar sad stories are familiar to the people who owned stocks of companies that went into reorganization as the result of bankruptcy and such during the Great Depression.

Those companies naturally had to pay off their creditors (the holders of bonds and other debt securities) first. In some cases, the creditors received stock in the reorganized company.

Then, if there was anything left, the stockholders were taken care of. In the case of the old Studebaker Corporation, the claims of the company's creditors were taken care of first. The holders of the preferred stock were next in line. That left nothing for the holders of the common stock except the "rights" mentioned above.

Q. A broker advised me against investing in shares of "no-load" mutual funds because, he said, "they are not subject to the Investment Company Act of 1940 and do not have the safeguards for investors that most mutual funds have." Is this true?

The broker showed me a story written by an executive of a big mutual fund organization that seemed to back up his statement.

A. No, what that broker told you is not true. All "registered investment companies" are subject to the Investment Company Act of 1940.

The "40 Act," as it is known in the trade, applies to all mutual funds. This includes those on which you pay a commission (better known as a "load") of up to, say, 8 1/2 per cent and the "no-load" funds — whose shares can be purchased without any sales charge.

The basic difference in the '40 Act in regards to no-load funds is that each such mutual fund is allowed to have a board of directors made up almost entirely of people affiliated with the organization that manages the fund. A no-load fund is required to have only one "outside" director.

Each of the other funds (on which a load is charged on the sale of shares) is required to have a board of directors made up of at least 40 per cent of "outsiders."

I am reasonably sure I know that "story" you say the broker showed you. It was written in response to a vicious and previously published smear of the mutual fund business.

But instead of defending the mutual fund business on its merits, that executive took off on a tangent and did the fund industry more harm than good.

Incidentally, the broker who showed you that story used unauthorized sales literature. If you report him to the authorities, he could be in serious trouble.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Monday, September 30, 1963

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)

As a new week begins, take a fresh start at your duties and proceed. Where can you eliminate waste motion but NOT cut out essentials. It is your decision.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)

The special recipe now is to try to understand your tasks and the people connected with them, and to put a bit more humor and spirit into the place for all to enjoy.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)

Do not take action until certain of your assignments and which means and tools would be right. But once sure, step ahead briskly. In Gemini, infectious enthusiasm is a must.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)

Your Moon's aspect stimulates your talents and interests, advises against gullibility and anxiety. Study successful methods.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)

Most can be accomplished on the way of the discontented or those who suggest insubordination. Duplicity. You go straight and be glad you do.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)

Awaken latent strength; study your fellowman; he can be a source of inspiration. And you are one to make the most of daily associations, today's opportunities.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra)

Generous planetary influences, especially in the arts, musicians, designers, interior decorators, entertainers, generally.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio)

Steady nerves and determination. There will be no tribulations you cannot manage and subdue, and no tasks too big for your abilities and endurance. Just stick and believe and achieve.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)

Showing up now in the newness of the week could be a sign of over-pressure of duties, or fear of no achievement. Recognizing this, and move, you will step forward with more security.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)

You may face a few complex situations — but many advantages too. Be alert to the latter, take the rest in stride, and you should have a satisfactory day.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)

The hardest moment of the day but once settled, you should make time to yourself. Set a bright tempo for yourself — and maintain it.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)

Neptune, favorable, encourages artistic efforts, maritime pursuits, occult interests. Explore every source of information to help you in applying your talents to better effect.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)

YOU BORN TODAY: It is in your character to build a strong foundation upon which many, not only yourself, will climb to great heights. You are productive, industrious, affable, ready to enjoy life, travel, people of all classes and temperaments. You work with others capably, though can be "bossy" at times. You are never a hypocrite, but often a critic. You make fine dramatics, singers. Don't let the speculating bug bite you, not wisely spend your energies.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)

THANK A LITTLE BIT FOR THE GOOD THINGS IN YOUR LIFE. DON'T LET THE SPECULATING BUG BITE YOU, NOT WISELY SPEND YOUR ENERGIES.

Delaware Water Gap

N. E. Burd
GR 6-0033

When Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Matos' daughter Dagmar exclaimed, "What a pretty dog!" as she looked out of their kitchen window, Mrs. Matos went in to the back yard to see the dog, for she knew of none loose in the neighborhood. She saw a fox and called to her neighbor's home by telephone. Carl Williams responded with his gun and shot the fox which was full grown. The fact that at the sound of the girl's voice, the fox moved toward her window, and then when Williams emerged, turned to go to him, makes those used to fox ways think that the animal was rabid. At least the Matos family have learned why the road on which they live was always called Foxtown Hill Road. Now it is called Seaside Drive.

William Heitler of Swiftwater, who recently celebrated his ninety-second birthday, was a caller in Water Gap last week. The alert young man was looking at the additions which his son, William Heitler II is having put on his gas station building. A large lunch counter and display room is being added on one side and an equally large storage room on the other side. All the building is covered with stained firwood siding. Rest rooms have been put inside the building and a large porch added to the back where there will be a walk-in refrigerator. Heitler is receiving many compliments on the fine looking building which is an attraction on Broad Street.

Last week-end was moving time in the borough, rivaling the old-time first of April for that. The Rodney Taylor family moved from the Cherry Valley bungalow which they have occupied for several years to their new home built just outside the borough lines. The Robert Smith family moved from their rented home on the road to Lake Lenape to an apartment in the former Reenleigh, now Mt. Minis Apartments. The William Elchokoff family moved from a bungalow on Oak Street to an apartment in Valley View on the Heights.

William Loder, a retired employee of Ronsom Corporation, who had lived for many months at the LeRoy Kaiser tourist home, has been greatly missed by folks on Broad Street. He has moved to the Dover section of New Jersey; but was back for a brief visit last week.

CHINESE MOONSHINE

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Treasury agents raided two Chinese grocery stores and reported bok jow, a harsh tasting rice liquor, was being bootlegged for $13 to $15 a gallon.

West Chester Trims ESSC

'Hurricane' Florence Rips Through Warriors, 21-0

By KEN O'BRIEN
Daily Record Sports Editor
EAST STROUDSBURG — Florence is a girl's name but it spells a hunk of a football player at West Chester. It's a good name for a hurricane, too.

The name is John Florence, a 5-foot-10-inch 190-pound workhorse who proved a determining factor in the Rams' 21-0 defeat of East Stroudsburg State College Saturday night before a crowd of more than 5,000 at Memorial Stadium.

Unfortunately for the Pennsylvanian State College Football Conference, Florence is only a sophomore.

Smashed Line

His thundering smashes through the Warrior line picked up a total of 114 yards. He was handed the ball a total of 26 times to average 4.4 yards per carry.

Offsetting this fine running was the passing of quarterback Terry Eberly who connected for a pair of scoring aeriels to halfbacks Clayton Burchill and Jim McFadden. Florence was given the well-earned honor of scoring the game's final touchdown in the fourth period.

For East Stroudsburg, winners of the eastern division conference championship a year ago, it was the second straight setback of the young season. The victory was the first for West Chester. Both had lost their season openers — ESSC to Montclair, 18-12, and West Chester to Villanova, 21-9.

Revenge Victory

It also was a revenge victory for the visiting Rams who dropped a 7-6 upset battle against the forces of coach Jack Gregory last season. That was the first conference loss for the perennial powerhouse from nearby Philadelphia since 1959.

The ESSC-West Chester rivalry also has decided the eastern title the past four years.

East Stroudsburg offered but one serious scoring threat. Early in the second period, the Warriors drove to the West Chester 2 after Toby Barsman had returned a Ram punt from midfield to the visitors' 35.

Barsman, Jan Boliveau and Henry Mowery carried the ball to the Rams' 10. Quarterback Charley Sierer tossed an eight-yard aerial to end Bob Ruckdeschel on a third-down play which placed the ball on the 20. But Boliveau was stopped at the line of scrimmage on the next play to symble the Warrior threat.

ESSC failed to penetrate enemy territory in the second half while West Chester completely dominated the play.

It was midway in the second period when the Rams launched their first scoring drive of the night. Starting on their own 36, Eberly moved a passing ground attack to cover the 64-yard distance in 11 plays. Florence hit the middle of the line for five yards to the Warrior 4 and Eberly flipped the TD aerial on the next play to McFadden. Burchill booted the PAT for the 7-0 margin with only 32 seconds remaining in the half.

West Chester scored the first time the Rams got their hands on the ball in the second half.

Tiding over on the ESSC 34 following poor punt, the Rams consumed but four plays with Eberly hitting Burchill for the TD on a 24-yard play.

The final scoring drive by the Rams came in the fourth period — a 46-yard march in which Florence lugged the leather on eight of the 12 plays.

Florence carried to the ESSC 10 for a first down and from there he carried three consecutive times to reach pay dirt.

It was evident the Rams wanted Florence to pick up a score — and despite the fact it also was evident to the Warriors they still were unable to stop his plunges through the line.

As the game ended, the Rams were again pounding on the scoring gates with the Warriors back up on their own 4.

Cardinals Hold
Helltown opened the fourth like they were going to turn the game into a rout but the determined Cards dug in and held on their own seven. PM recovered a Rusty Klingler fumble and immediately set in motion what turned out to be a touchdown drive.

PM really got their offense in high gear during this scoring march. They covered 93 yards in exactly three plays. First Mark Mikels, who was kept out of the scoring column for the first time this season, swept left end for a 40-yard advance. On the next play Jerry Hanna lost two on a buck. The very next play Coffman took a Young handoff and went around his own right end for a 44-yard touchdown scamper. Dehaven added the point and the score was cut to the final 20-13 margin.

Pro Football Roundup

Browns In First; Win 3rd Straight

The Cleveland Browns, powered by Jimmy Brown and Frank Ryan grabbed sole possession of the Eastern Conference lead in the National Football League Sunday, while Billy Wade passed the rampaging Chicago Bears to their third straight victory in the West.

The Browns, now 3-0, rolled over hapless Los Angeles 20-6 at Cleveland and remained alone in the East's top spot when St. Louis fell from the ranks of the unbeaten 23-0 at Pittsburgh. Wade passed for three touchdowns and ran for another in Chicago's 37-21 victory at Detroit, which had been forecast as a defensive struggle.

Bald Y. A. Tittle returned to action and led the New York Giants to a 37-14 triumph at Philadelphia; the Redskins rallied and handed Dallas its third straight loss, 21-17 at Washington; Green Bay took Baltimore 31-20 despite the heroics of Johnny Unitas, and Minnesota blasted visiting San Francisco 45-14.

In the American League, unbeaten San Diego handed defending champion Kansas City its first loss, 24-10, at San Diego, and Denver upset visiting Boston 14-10. The Boston defeat allowed the New York Jets to gain the lead in the East. The surprising Jets knocked off Oakland 10-7 and Houston beat Buffalo 31-20 in Saturday night AFL games.

The Bears hadn't scored on the Lions' tough defense in three games, but Wade wasted little time in turning the projected defensive struggle into a stage for his personal heroics in the NFL's key game.

He threw scoring passes of 18 yards to Angelo Coia, 16 to Johnny Morris and 13 to Mike Ditka and plunged over from the 1 as the Bears barged out to a 35-0 halftime lead. He finished the afternoon with 18 completions in 34 passing attempts for 203 yards.

The victory left the unbeaten Bears with a one-game lead over Green Bay and Minnesota while Detroit dropped to a share of fourth with Baltimore.

Brown Stars

Brown, the league's leading rusher, picked up 95 yards on 22 carries and scored one touchdown in Cleveland's decision over Los Angeles. That gave him 483 yards and six touchdowns for three games. Ryan passed for the other two Brown touchdowns on plays covering 14 and 39 yards.

Once-tied Pittsburgh knocked St. Louis out of a share of the Eastern lead with a 17-point rally in the fourth quarter. Lou Michaels and Bob Ferguson had the key roles, Michaels kicking field goals of 21, 40 and 21 yards and recovering a fumble that led to the winning touchdown, a four-yard run by Ferguson.

Lucky Break

Green Bay had a lucky break in overcoming the passing artistry of Baltimore's Unitas. Unitas completed 19 of 30 for 253 yards and led the Colts to a 17-14 lead going into the fourth quarter when the Packers uncorked their wind.

Quarterback Bart Starr fumbled on a half-off and the ball bounded back 10 yards before he could scoop it up. When he did recover, he found Boyd Dowler all alone on the Colt 25, and Dowler romped in with the pass that put the Packers ahead to stay.

Title, out of action with injuries when the Giants were shut out by Pittsburgh last week, directed the New York attack in almost flawless fashion against the Eagles and threw touchdown passes of 43, 10 and 8 yards.

Vikings Romp

Minnesota continued in four touchdowns in the second quarter and took it from there against the 49ers. Quarterback Fran Tarkenton had touchdown passes of 67, 57 and 14 yards among his 14 completions that covered 242 yards.

Washington's Jim Steffen raced 78 yards with a pass interception for a touchdown and then stymied a Dallas threat with another interception in the closing minutes to preserve the Redskins victory. Dallas' Bill Howton caught four passes for 82 yards, pushing his career total to 8,067 yards and breaking the record of 7,991 by Don Hutson.

San Diego quarterback Tobin Rote threw touchdown passes of 19, 35 and 15 yards as the Chargers built a 21-0 lead in the second quarter en route to the key victory over the defending champion Chiefs. It was the Chargers third without loss and Kansas City's first defeat.

Slaters Spectacular In Rout Over Catty

By ARMON WILLIAMS
Daily Record Correspondent
CATASAUQUA — The Bangor Slaters were next to spectacular Saturday afternoon when they rolled to a 21-0 victory over the Rough Riders of Catasauqua High School on the losers' field in near 90-degree temperatures.

An estimated crowd of 2500, more than half of them Slater fans, saw a contest of bruising and hard-nose football as two lines met head on in a bone-crusher.

It was Bill Yeager, fleet Slater halfback who broke the game open when he took a Catty punt on the losers' 46 and behind determined down-field blocking went the distance to score the first of the Slaters three marches into paydirt.

Duane Krauss, second string junior quarterback, split the up-rights for his first of three perfect placements as the Slaters took the lead with a 7-0 count in the first half.

Penalties Hurt
Neither team could mount a successful drive in the first quarter, with Bangor absorbing more than its share of penalties.

The quarter ended with the Slaters holding possession on the Catty 49.

Unable to move at the start of the second quarter the Slaters punted out of bounds on the losers 29.

With Catty in possession, Jim Parsons, the Slaters' captain, intercepted a Catty pass on the 36. Bangor moved for a first down on the Catty 23 but failed to go farther than the Catty 16 where the Rough Riders took possession.

Catty fumbled but recovered the miscue on its own 11. They kicked out to Yeager who gathered the ball in on the 46 and went down the sidelines for 46 yards and the touchdown. Krauss kicked the placement with Parsons holding.

Score Again
The second Bangor touchdown came in the first part of the start of the second half. The Slaters took the Catty kickoff and drove to the losers 30. The Slaters fumbled here and Catty recovered. Catty fumbled right back and the Slaters had possession on the Rough Rider 30 again.

Yeager carried for 7; Parsons for 2 and Yeager made it a first down on the Rough Rider 19. Parsons got to the Catty 4 and another first down.

Bangor lost the ball on the one by fumbling but the Slaters got it right back with a recovery on the two yard line. From this point, Yeager took a hand off in the belly ride series and smashed in for the second Slater TD.

Defense Stifflers
Catty took the ensuing kickoff and by a delayed type of passing attack moved to the Slater 20 yard line. Here the Slater defense stiffened and Dick Pozzuto, playing defensive tackle, intercepted a Rough Rider pass and returned the ball to the Slater 36. An exchange of pass interceptions occurred again with Barry Holland, Bangor halfback, getting the ball back for the Slaters and carried to the Catty 26 where he was piked up.

Yeager carried for six yards and Heard, Parsons and Yeager made it a first down on the Catty 19. Yeager got loose again around end and carried out of bounds on the Catty 5 yard line.

Jim Parsons, on the next play, povered his way up the middle to score the third Slater touchdown and Krauss place-kicked his third extra point.

Oriole Skipper Fired

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Billy Hitchcock of the Baltimore Orioles was fired Sunday ending his two years as skipper of the American League club. A successor was not immediately named.

General Manager Lee MacPhail said Hitchcock had been offered a job in the Oriole organization, but had not yet decided whether to accept. Hitchcock left immediately after the final game of the season for his home in Oxnell, Ala.

MacPhail hired Hitchcock after Paul Richards quit as manager of Baltimore to accept the post of general manager with Houston of the National League.

The Orioles, who crashed third in 1961, wound up seventh under Hitchcock last year and finished fourth this season with an 86-76 record, nine games better than last year.

A. L. Suffers Huge Drop In Attendance

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League smashed all baseball attendance records in 1963, surpassing the mark established last season when the circuit expanded to 10 clubs.

However, a drop of almost one million in the American League resulted in an overall major league decline of 4.2 per cent.

The National League attendance after Sunday's final games was 11,382,233 compared to 11,360,159 last year. The American League wound up with 9,095,232 or 919,824 under the 1962 total of 10,015,056.

The big league aggregate was 20,477,465. In 1962 it was 21,375,215.

The Los Angeles Dodgers led both circuits with 2,533,602. However, they were among five National League clubs under last year's figures with a decline of 217,582. The others with decreases were Pittsburgh, 307,000; Houston 204,954; Cincinnati 123,290, and San Francisco 21,278.

Helltown Edges Pocono Mountain

HELLTOWN—The dreams of an undefeated season for the fledgling football Cardinals of Pocono Mountain Joint High school came to a grinding halt Saturday night at Hellertown High School stadium.

Coach Wayne Boyd's gritty eleven came out on the short end of a 20-13 defeat against the Panthers of Hellertown High.

This was the first time PM's goal line had been crossed in three games. It left the Cardinals with the very commendable record of two wins and one loss in this very young football season.

Storm Back

Faced with a 14-point deficit at the end of the first half, the Cards came storming back in the second half to come within a scant seven points of remaining unbeaten.

Boyd's winged-T attack was once again the springboard for PM's devastating one - two punch of Mark Mikels and Bill Coffman. Between them, they gained a total of 186 yards on the ground in 12 carries.

Helltown, guided by the slick ball handling and adroit running of quarterback Alex Polohovich, ground out a touchdown the first time they laid their hands on the pigskin. The drive was highlighted by a 32-yard scamper by Polohovich. He eventually bucked over for the first score from two yards out. Tackles added the point and Hellertown led at the end of one 7-0.

The Panthers upped the margin to 14-0 before the half ended when Barry Kunsman clinaxed a 40-yard march with a scoring dash from 10 yards. Polohovich passed to Jerry Holm for the conversion.

PM's first score was set up when Dave Bonser intercepted a Polohovich pass and returned it 25-yards to the PM 25. At this point fullback Coffman broke through up the middle and carried to the Hellertown one. On the next play quarterback Allen Young, who had been hampered all day by a hard churning Panther line, scored on a sneak. Bob Dehaven's conversion was blocked and the count stood 14-6.

At this point Polohovich took command again and under his expert guidance Hellertown drove to its final tally of the day. The shifty quarterback personally cupped the march by bootlegging the ball the final five yards. His pass to Holm for the extra point went astray.

Cardinals Hold

Helltown opened the fourth like they were going to turn the game into a rout but the determined Cards dug in and held on their own seven. PM recovered a Rusty Klingler fumble and immediately set in motion what turned out to be a touchdown drive.

PM really got their offense in high gear during this scoring march. They covered 93 yards in exactly three plays. First Mark Mikels, who was kept out of the scoring column for the first time this season, swept left end for a 40-yard advance. On the next play Jerry Hanna lost two on a buck. The very next play Coffman took a Young handoff and went around his own right end for a 44-yard touchdown scamper. Dehaven added the point and the score was cut to the final 20-13 margin.

Power, Deception Provide 40-0 Win Over Eastburg

PEN ARGYL — Power and deception. Those were the two ingredients used by the Green Knights of Pen Argyl Saturday to rout the invading Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg, 40-0.

Operating from the single-wing — which has been used at Pen Argyl ever since the arrival of coach Elwood Patchell three seasons ago — the Green Knights rang up their second straight win of the campaign.

It didn't take long for the Pen Argyl power and deception to show. The Knights took the opening kickoff and nine plays later had reached pay dirt over a distance of 74 yards.

Stick To Ground
Sticking to the ground all the way, the ballcarriers were Bruce Hewett, Terry Young, LeRoy Amy, Jim Rodney and Glenn Huffsmith. A handoff by Amy to Hewett went for the longest ground-gainer in that march — 27 yards. Amy cracked the line for 11 and Hewett carried for 13 in the drive. Young scored the first touchdown of the day, skirting right end from the 10-yard line. It was only moments later that the Knights scored again. Following the kickoff of Eastburg, the Cavaliers were forced to punt on their first series of downs — five yards further back than they had started after three plays on the 20.

burg 33 and three plays later the score was 13-0. It went like this: Amy cracked off tackle on the first play for 16 yards, then took a handoff from nine more yards before Young scored on an eight-yard skitter around right end — the same play in which he scored the first TD.

In the second period, the Knights tallied the third TD of the game to carry off a 20-0 halftime lead. That drive went for 68 yards in 10 plays. Rodney covered the last 31 yards in four consecutive carries, picking up two first downs on his first two attempts en route to pay dirt.

Meanwhile, the Cavaliers of coach Jack Kist had failed to negotiate one first down by halftime. Not only was the Pen Argyl offense too much for the Eastburgers to cope with, but the Knights' defense also was proving a sturdy alignment.

The second half was a replica of the first. On the opening kickoff to Eastburg, Rodney pounced on a loose ball in a weird play which saw the ball hit one of the Cavalier defenses without any attempt by any of them to make a recovery. Rodney took advantage of the mental lapse to give the Knights possession the Cavalier 9.

On the first play from scrimmage, Rodney smashed through the line for the touchdown to boost the score to 26-0.

Bruce Hewett broke into the scoring column in the same quarter on a one-yard plunge after Hewett had passed to Amy for a neat 20-yard play to bring the ball down to the Eastburg 11. Rodney ran for the PAT to zip the count to 33-0.

The final score of the game — and the third in the third period — came on a 41-yard drive in five plays with Bruce Smith carrying over on an inside reverse from the 12. Dale Copone carried for the conversion point.

JARRIN' JIM RODNEY, obscured by East Stroudsburg High School linemen, plunges across goal line for first Pen Argyl touchdown in second half. Rodney tallied two of the Green Knights' TD's in their 40-0 over the visiting Cavaliers Saturday.

Penn State Uses Field Goal To Win

The field goal in football can be an all-important weapon.

It saved the game for victorious Penn State Saturday, and in a bit of irony it cost Drexel a close ball game.

Ron Coates, a substitute quarterback for coach Rip Engle's Penn State team, had to kick two field goals—only one of them counted—as the Nittany Lions defeated UCLA, 17-14.

Coates kicked an 18-yarder to break a 14-all tie in the final period, but Penn State had too many men on the field and was penalized five yards. Coates moved back to the 22-yard line and kicked another one to give the Lions their second straight victory.

Different Story
For Drexel it was a different story. In a tight game with the Coast Guard, Iv Campbell booted a 15-yarder. But the Coast Guard was offside and Drexel gave up the three points to try for a touchdown from four yards out. Drexel couldn't move, so Campbell tried a field goal from the 9. This time he failed.

Then with 29 seconds remaining in the game, Coast Guard's Cecil Allison kicked a 23-yard field goal for a 3-0 victory over the Philadelphians.

Penn didn't need the field goal as the Quakers opened their season with a 47-0 victory over out-manned Lafayette. Neither did California State which won its second straight 46-21 over Lock Haven.

Villanova overcame a 14-0 deficit with three third period touchdowns and defeated Toledo 18-14.

Mazurek Stars
Pitt also took its second straight as junior quarterback Fred Mazurek scored once and passed for another TD in a 13-6 victory over Washington.

Delaware got some icing on the cake with a 42-yard field goal as it defeated Lehigh 30-0. But Bucknell would have welcomed the three-point play as it lost to Dartmouth, 20-18, when a two-point conversion attempt failed after an 69-yard scoring pass play from Don Rodgers to Tom Mitchell with less than two minutes left in the game.

Temple was in a similar situation as it played a 20-0 tie with Kings Point. The Owls, leading 14-12 going into the final period, scored again on Mark Lichtenfeld's one yard sneak. But instead of a placement attempt the Owls tried to pass for two points. That was intercepted and Kings Point drove 80 yards for a touchdown and added a two-point conversion.

Mansfield Wins
In other games, Jerry Mattis' 28-yard field goal and a fourth period touchdown after a pass interception provided Mansfield with its second victory, a 30-21 affair over Bloomsburg. Clarion State pounded Grove City 24-0; Jim Stouch's 82-yard TD run gave Millersville a 13-6 victory over Kutztown.

Quarterback Harry Theofilides threw two TD passes and scored twice to lead Waynesburg to a 30-12 victory over Lycoming. Slippery Rock defeated a fumbling Edinboro team, 14-0. Indiana State came from behind and scored all its points in the second half to the Westminster, 13-13. Wagner wore down Pennsylvania Military College 27-0.

Denny Price's running and one touchdown led Denison to a 16-6 victory over Carnegie Tech. Shepherd scored on a one-yard pass with less than two minutes remaining for a 12-7 victory over Shippensburg. Dick Baughn's two 1/2 paced Delaware Valley to a 32-0 romp over Gaudaud.

Gettysburg scored twice on the passing combination of Vance Johnston to Ken Snyder as the Bullets defeated Juniata, 18-14. Susquehanna, which had been unbeaten in 22 games until last week, resumed its winning ways with a 12-7 triumph over Youngstown. Cheyney opened its season by defeating Howard 12-6.

In World Series

Bullpen Is Seen Decisive Factor

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Koufax and Whitey Ford dominate pre-World Series talk but it may be two gentlemen from the bullpen, Ron Perranoski and Hal Reniff, who will decide the winner.

The pairing of Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' 25-game winning ace, and Ford, the New York Yankees' 24-game winner, in the opening game Wednesday has great significance. Each lefty figure to start three games in the best-of-seven series that can stretch over nine days because of the off day for coast-to-coast travel.

Tommy Davis Wins N. L. Batting Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers captured the National League batting championship for the second straight year and Carl Yastrzemski of Boston won the American League crown for the first time.

Davis, a .346 hitter last year, finished the 1963 campaign Sunday with a .326 average. Yastrzemski wound up at .321. Davis is the first National League player to put together back-to-back batting titles since Stan Musial in 1961-62. Yastrzemski succeeds Pete Runnels as the AL champ. Runnels played for Houston in the National League this season.

Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the 1961 NL batting leader, was the runner-up to Davis this year. He collected three hits in four times at bat Sunday and lifted his average to .320. Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Dick Groat of St. Louis tied for third at .319.

Aaron was the pace-setter in runs batted in with 139. His 44th homer in Sunday's game against the Chicago Cubs enabled him to tie San Francisco's Willie McCovey for the home run title.

Musial's Career Ended

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, who broke in with St. Louis with two hits 22 years ago, ended his career the same way Sunday in a 14-inning 3-2 Cardinal victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Dal Maxwell's game-winning double in the last of the 14th enabled Musial to retire on a triumphant note.

First Hit
The Man delivered the first hit off Cincinnati starter Jim Maloney, a single up the middle in the fourth. Then in the sixth, Musial singled after a double by Curt Flood, driving in the game's first run.

Musial then retired for pinch runner Gary Kolb, who eventually scored, making it 2-0. The Reds drew even after two were out in the ninth with two runs against Bob Gibson.

The two hits for Musial, who struck out his first time up, brought his career total to 3,630. He had played in 3,026 games and ended with a .331 lifetime batting average. This year he hit .251. Before the game Musial received one standing ovation after another. After civic and baseball officials praised him in brief speeches, The Man stood at a battery of microphones and said: "as long as I live I will always remember this day. For me it is both a great joy and a great sorrow. It is a joy because of this wonderful day for me, and it is a sorrow because it is a farewell."

Musial thanked his wife, Lillian, and his son and three daughters for bearing with him during his long career.

"They have been wonderful in giving their full and loving support to a part-time husband and father."

"If my baseball career has taught me anything it is this: The opportunity America offers any young man who wants to get to the top of his chosen career."

"Thank God"
Then, his head bowed and his voice cracking with emotion, he added:

"I want to thank God for giving me the talents I have had and the good health I have enjoyed so that the 22 years of professional baseball have been possible."

Ken Boyer, captain of the Cardinals, presented Musial with a ring showing his uniform No. 6 in diamonds. August Busch Jr., the club's president, said the number would be retired.

1964 Plymouth Has Fresh "Go"

Featuring performance and quality, Plymouth cars for 1964 have increased head room, improved driver vision and a 1 1/2-inch increase in over-all length. They have a fresh styling appeal as shown in this picture of the Sport Fury two-door hardtop. Among the many new features are a Chrysler-engineered four-speed floor-mounted manual transmission, an all-electric push button windshield washer, and an attractive new center console with a "stick shift" type gear selector for the automatic transmission in the Sport Fury.

Arthur Jolley (fourth from right) hosts Simca service managers

Jolley's chosen as site for Simca service school

Automotive service managers from northwest New Jersey and Pennsylvania Simca dealerships met at Jolley's Auto Exchange last week for a special service school on the 1964 Simca 1000.

Arthur Jolley, who is the authorized Simca dealer for Monroe, Lackawanna, Pike, Carbon and northwestern New Jersey, said his dealership was chosen because of its equipment and service facilities.

Mr. Jolley explained his service department recently installed new electronic motor analyzer equipment. The sensitive equipment enables his mechanics to check all engine components without removing them from the car. Service work is speeded up and there is no guesswork in locating the mechanical trouble.

Jolley's introduced the Simca 1000 — Chrysler's all new economy car a few weeks ago. "Public response has been very enthusiastic," Mr. Jolley reports. The first allotment of the new Simcas sold quickly and "we're already selling re-order shipments."

Mr. Jolley explains Simca's acceptance this way:

"Every once in a while a new product comes along that upsets the applecart. Such excitement often topples old favorites. People who vowed they would never change products excitedly trade their 'old favorite' for the new pace-setter."

"This is just what the debut of the Simca 1000 did to the European car market. It upset old favorites in tradition-bound places. People bought the Simca 1000 in such a hurry it became one of the most successful new cars ever launched in Europe."

"Here in the United States the pattern continued. Road & Track Magazine said of it: '... a better car than most Americans will ever have a chance to know.'"

Mr. Jolley added: "Simca 1000 is packed with engineering features and—best of all—sells for under $3000!"

Jr. Miss Poconos Contestants Enjoy Tour

STROUDSBURG — Fine weather Saturday served as a background for the tour of the Poconos which honored Miss Suzanne Rossi, Junior Miss Pocono Mountains and the Miss Pocono Mountains contestants.

Miss Rossi, who was crowned in ceremonies Friday at Pocono Mountain Joint School, rode in a convertible which was provided by the cooperation of The Inn, Buck Hill Falls, and Ray Price Motors, Stroudsburg. She was escorted by Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Williams.

Proceeding the motorcade was a sound truck, operated by owner Robert Triola of Canadensis Electronics, Jim McCleary and Robert Besoeker. Through the use of the Mountain Emergency Radio Net, the position of the motorcade was pinpointed and it was met at strategic intersections by the cooperating police departments. Mrs. Forest Evans operated the base station for the radio net.

Motorcycle Escort

William Post and Harry Whitmore of the Pocono Mountains Motorcycle Club, Mount Pocono, and Evan Hufsmith and Paul Ace of the Mountainview Motorcycle Club, Tannersville, provided escort for the caravan, aiding them in traffic and at necessary stops.

Miss Carolyn May and Miss Linda Chestnut were escorted by Paul Ziegler, and Mrs. Robert Besoeker. Miss Lynn Schiebel was escorted by Alvin Zeigler, Jr., and Mrs. Dale Price.

Miss Karen Graepel was escorted by David Elide and Mrs. Judy Leister. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bevan were escorts for Miss Monika Borck.

Riding in open convertibles, the girls were honored at The Inn, Buck Hill Falls, with a "kaffeeklatch" and a tour of the falls. Mrs. M. Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edgerton were hosts for the tour personnel.

At Bushkill Falls, Jane Albrecht was hostess for a tour of the scenic spot. Mrs. Harry Lee was hostess for the members at Win-

Forest Fire Extinguished

MT. POCONO — Mt. Pocono Volunteer Fire Dept. was called to a forest fire between Mt. Pocono and Pocono Manor at 5 p.m. Friday.

Firemen extinguished the blaze, but it broke out again and two state Dept. of Forests and Waters crews continued battling it during the night.

Ernest P. Blasing, Mt. Pocono fire chief, said the blaze is burning deep beneath the surface and a bulldozer may be brought in to assist in putting it out.

Bishing said one tank truck of the local department remained at the scene to provide water for the crews, headed by Paul Nauman and Forest Evans, both of Cresco.

Bushkill Firemen Greet JFK

BUSHKILL — Nine members of the Bushkill Volunteer Fire Company took part in the handling of traffic at Milford during President Kennedy's recent visit to the Gifford Pinchot estate.

Taking part were Lawrence Dickson, Rev. Robert Tulenko, Frank Messerle, Walter Benley, Herbert Bensley, Harold Ace, Arthur Meyers, Donald Halterman and George Morris.

Most of the firemen were greeted by the President with a handshake and a few words of personal comment.
